Settlement Today In Milkmen's Dispute

The eight-month dispute between four major Victoria dairies and their 165 salesmen and plant workers was due for settlement today.

Both sides were meeting at press time hammering out final details of a compromise agreement. "Anything could happen, of course, but we don't expect any trouble in arriving at a solution today," George Shaw, union business agent, said before the meeting began.

Mr. Shaw and Sam Brown, representing milkmen in Local 464, Milk Salesmen and Dairy Employees' Union, met with the dairy managers to discuss four points raised by the union. Last week agreement was reached on a five-day delivery schedule, skipping Wednesday and Sunday, sought by management and monthly wage increases of $30 for drivers and $32.50 for plant employees, sought by the union.

Only shadow of possible contention today falls on two of the union points. The union wants the 50-hour work week for drivers cut to 45 hours. It also wants an upward revision of commission rates. Both have been opposed by management.

"This is the first time that hours of work have entered the picture and it may take some thrashing out," Mr. Brown said.

SENIORITY
Third goal sought by the union is an iron-clad guarantee that seniority will be the basis for any lay-offs, schedule will reduce delivery schedule will eliminate about 12 jobs held by relief drivers.

No immediate lay-offs are anticipated as the normal staff turnover is expected to make necessary adjustments in about two or three months. "But we want to make sure that seniority rules, just in case," Mr. Shaw said. Final union point was expected to receive ready agreement—the wage increases to be retroactive to Jan. 1. The new contract would run to March 31, 1958.

B.C. Civil Servants Win Bargaining Rights Fight

By PETER MURRY
Provincial civil servants have won their fight for bargaining rights. Representatives of the government and the 12,000-member B.C. Government Employees' Association told Chief Justice Gordon Sloan Tuesday they are "agreed in principle."

Chief Justice Sloan was appointed as a board of reference in July to inquire into the bargaining procedure laid down in the Civil Service Act. The government employees had threatened to strike to support their demands until the government made the appointment and promised a 7½-per-cent average wage increase. Since that time the government and the association have been negotiating on their own. Chief Justice Sloan told them to narrow down the issues between them, and they have now reached a settlement without the necessity of full-scale hearings.

Troops' Clash Looms Over Barring Negroes

Tension Mounts In School Strife

(From Times News Services)

A lone Negro teenaged girl attempted repeatedly to cross a line of 200 troops but was turned back by the soldiers ordered out by Governor Orval Faubus.

State Adjutant-General Sherman Klinger reported that U.S. marshals were preparing to carry out the court order by Federal Judge Ronald Davies, calling for school officials to proceed with integration.

As word spread that the marshals were coming, a crowd began to gather outside the school. Several hundred on-lookers had been on hand earlier, jeering and shouting when the Negroes failed to gain admittance.

The troops, many with clips of cartridges in their hands, stood about waiting for the marshals.

The Negro girl was unaccompanied when she approached the long line of guardsmen, armed with rifles and carbines.

A crowd of some 150 shouting whites engulfed the girl as she tried to pass the guardsmen. The whites, shouting such phrases as "nigger go back where you belong," made no attempt to harm her.

White Students Attack Girl

The Negro girl refused to answer questions of reporters.

A federal judge has ordered school officials to proceed with integration.

Another Negro girl, 15-year-old Dorothy Geraldine, was the target of an attack in Charlotte, North Carolina, when a band of white students and spectators wielded rocks and sticks as she left high school after registering as the first Negro student there.

She escaped serious injury. One white youth in a crowd shouting "Nigger, go home" was arrested by police.

Meantime in Little Rock, Governor Faubus who called out the militia Tuesday night described the situation as a "legal checker game" but gave no indication whether he will back down on his stand to keep the high school segregated.

Federal Judge Ronald Davies Tuesday night said he was taking at face value Faubus' statement that the 250 guardsmen were called out to keep peace and order, and not to enforce segregation. After a five-minute hearing he ordered the board to proceed with his integration order.

President Eisenhower said in Washington Tuesday that Attorney-General Herbert Brownell is looking into the situation.

Hecklers Dispersed by Police

In North Carolina, the focal point shifted today from Greensboro to Charlotte. One Negro pupil planned to enroll in each of four white schools at Charlotte today.

One Negro is to enter a white school at Winston-Salem, N.C., Thursday.

North Carolina's Governor Luther Hodges said he neither approved nor disapproved of the steps taken at Charlotte, Greensboro and Winston-Salem.

Police dispersed about a dozen hecklers, mostly youths, who jeered the Negro students at Greensboro.

Seventeen Negro pupils were ready to begin integrated classes today at Sturgis, Ky. The Negroes were enrolled Tuesday while a boisterous crowd of about 250 persons milled about outside. Beer cans were thrown toward the school, a few pebbles sailed through the air and firecrackers were set off.

Justice department officials indicated in Washington that no action will be taken at Little Rock until all the facts are in hand.

A Negro told Birmingham, Ala., police he was severely beaten and sexually mutilated by a group of unmasked white men. He said they told him "This is what will happen if Negroes try to integrate the schools."

Special Tory Caucus Planned by John D.

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is planning a special caucus of Conservative members of parliament a week or 10 days before the opening of parliament, it was learned Wednesday. Parliament will be opened Oct. 14.

It is understood Mr. Diefenbaker will outline his government intentions for the Conservative members. He may give them a preview of some of the legislation that is to be introduced.

OTTAWA—Roland Michener, 57, member of parliament for St. Paul's, Toronto constituency, is expected to be nominated as Speaker of the Commons by Prime Minister Diefenbaker at the coming session.

ULTIMATUM BY RUSSIA

LONDON (UP)—Russia flatly rejected the Western disarmament package today and demanded the West present a "more realistic" offer or end the London arms conference.

Boy, 6, Killed Up-Island

Melvin Dick, 6, was killed at Nanos Bay Tuesday at 7 p.m. when he was struck by a car while riding in a home-made wagon.

According to RCMP, the boy and his 10-year-old brother were coasting down a hill leading to the Island Highway. The mishap occurred when the younger boy went down the hill alone and shot on to the highway, directly in the path of a car.

NO CHARGES

It was driven by a 17-year-old Alberta youth who was driving to Port Alberni to meet his family, who have made their home there.

Police did not release his name, and no charges have been laid.

Scene of the accident is 15 miles north of Nanaimo.

An inquest was scheduled by Parksville-Qualicum RCMP for today at 3 p.m. with Coroner T. Hadfield of Qualicum presiding.

No Statement On Retirement—St. Laurent

By VICTOR J. MACKIE

OTTAWA—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent's declaration from his summer home in St. Patrick, Quebec, that he has made no statement to officials of his party that he wants to retire, came as no surprise in political circles here Wednesday.

Mr. St. Laurent as leader of the Liberal party has made it clear that he intends to lead the Opposition in the coming session of parliament which opens Oct. 14.

If it becomes apparent that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is planning an early election in December or January, then certainly the Liberal party will make no move to change its leader. It will have no time to make a change and Mr. St. Laurent is the present leader would carry the responsibility of conducting another general election.

No Testimony by Stars

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The prosecution decided today against calling any more movie stars in the criminal libel trial of Confidential magazine despite pleas of some for a chance to denounce the publication.

Higher food prices provided the main propellant in July as the index scored one of its most prolonged advances in recent years.

Prices rose in July for eggs, pork, butter, grapefruit, beef, as well as rent, home-ownership costs, coal, gasoline, street-car and bus fares, taxi fares, newspapers, drugs, hospital room rates and personal care items.

These were partially offset by lower prices for all fresh vegetables, apples and coffee as well as both men's and women's wear and fuel oil.

BIG THREE GET NOTES

Russ Have New Mid-East Plan

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet government handed a new Middle East declaration dealing particularly with Syria to ambassadors of the Western Big Three Tuesday night, official sources revealed today.

Foreign minister Andrei Gromyko personally gave the notes to the U.S., British and French ambassadors in Moscow. The precise contents of the notes were not revealed. But it was expected the Soviet news agency Tass would broadcast the texts Thursday.

Authoritative sources in London said earlier that in the new notes Russia had proposed to Britain and the other two western powers that the four nations seek to settle the Middle East crisis together.

Russia's line of argument earlier this year was that the big powers should formally renounce use of force in the Middle East.

It also suggested some form of big power declaration on the area.

The United States, Britain and France rejected the original Soviet suggestion earlier this summer on the grounds that the United Nations charter already called for renunciation of force in all disputes.

Wheat Forecast

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan Wheat Pool today forecast the Saskatchewan wheat crop at 15.3 bushels an acre, or approximately 205,000,000 bushels based on the bureau of statistics estimated acreage of 13,365,000.

All-Time High Hit By Cost of Living

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs rose for the fifth consecutive month in July, boosting the consumer price index by another seven-tenths of a point to a record 122.6, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Higher food prices provided the main propellant in July as the index scored one of its most prolonged advances in recent years. Prices rose in July for eggs, pork, butter, grapefruit, beef, as well as rent, home-ownership costs, coal, gasoline, street-car and bus fares, taxi fares, newspapers, drugs, hospital room rates and personal care items.

These were partially offset by lower prices for all fresh vegetables, apples and coffee as well as both men's and women's wear and fuel oil.

The consumer price index, at 122.6, compares with 121.9 last month and 119.1 a year ago. Here are the various components of the consumer price index for July with June standings in brackets: Food 120.2 (118.2), shelter 135.3 (135.1), clothing 108.2 (108.4), house-hold operations 119.7 (119.6), other commodities and services 126.9 (126.5).

PRAYER FOR TODAY
Our Father God, as our children once more re-enter the class room to sit at the feet of the school teacher, we would thank Thee for our public school system and the faithful public servants who have dedicated themselves to this high calling. Grant that this great heritage of our American democracy may be forever preserved. Give guidance to all who supervise our schools and share in this important work; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Soviet Jet Airliner Winging Way To Canada En Route to U.S. Base

From Times News Services

REYKJAVIK, Iceland—Wing-ing its way towards Canada, en route to the U.S., a Soviet TU-104 jetliner stopped here for refuelling. The flight represents the first trans-Atlantic venture of a Russian plane to the U.S. in 20 years.

Two RCAF navigators are helping to fly the airliner from Iceland to Labrador.

They are Flt. Lt. W. D. Stewart of Almonte, Ont., and Flt. Lt. Robert M. Edwards of Lucky Lake, Sask., reported to have boarded the twin-jet plane at Reykjavik this morning.

The Russian jet, on its way to McGuire Air Force Base at New Jersey, is to land at Goose Bay, Labrador, this afternoon for refuelling, with Gander, New-foundland, as an alternative pending on weather.

The twin-engined, silver-painted plane, carrying Soviet delegates to the General Assembly and personnel for the Soviet Embassy in Washington, Moscow-London-Iceland-Newfoundland legs of the trip.

It remained on the ground for about 90 minutes before moving off on its next leg, the 4½-hour hop to Goose Bay, Labrador.

The plane took off from Moscow at 12:45 a.m. EDT and reached London at 4:35 a.m. EDT, took aboard 6,500 gallons of jet fuel and was airborne again at 7 a.m. EDT.

they were demanding during negotiations this spring.

Otherwise, they would have presented their case before Chief Justice Sloan and hoped for a favorable recommendation. (Both sides had agreed to accept the chief justice's findings.)

INDEPENDENT BOARD

Most likely hinge to the settlement is the creation of an independent board to which the civil servants would have recourse if they could not gain satisfaction in direct negotiations with the Civil Service Commission or the cabinet.

Findings of this board would not be binding, however.

The government has maintained that it could never agree to binding arbitration because it would violate the principle of parliamentary supremacy.

For their part, the civil servants would retain the right to strike if the finding of the board was not acceptable.

In actual practice, however, the board's recommendations would undoubtedly be accepted by both sides as they are under a similar arrangement in Great Britain.

2 Top Reds End at Bottom Of TUC Poll

BLACKPOOL, England (Reuters)—Two leading Communists were beaten today for election to the 35-man general council of the Trades Union Congress, governing body for Britain's 8,300,000 organized workers.

Arthur Horner, Communist secretary of the National Union of Mine Workers, was at the bottom of the poll in the mining and quarrying group with 2,187,000 card votes.

The second Communist who sought election, Frank Haxell, general secretary of the Electrical Trades Union, also ended at the bottom in the engineering and vehicle building group with 591,000 votes.

Twenty members of the existing council were returned unopposed.

But fate stepped in ahead of a navy jet fighter which smashed into their houses in suburban Berkeley Tuesday, leaving little but charred ruins.

The pilot, Lieut. John R. Renshaw, appeared to be shooting for an open space a block west of the Meyer home when his burning plane hit what may have been the only two unoccupied homes in the area. Renshaw was killed.

Schneider, operator of a home improvement firm, said his wife, Ruth, would be busy getting supper almost any other Tuesday. Their children, Linda, 8; Charles, 5, and baby Richard, 3½ months, would be at home.

But it was the first day of school and his wife had picked out the children's best clothes and gone to her mother's.

They were at the home of Mrs. Schneider's mother when the plane ripped through the Meyer home and into the Schneiders' six-room frame house. It left only a few upright timbers and four drawers of untouched clothing in a scorched dresser.

Schneider still was at his office. Almost any other Tuesday Raymond Meyer would be in the shower after a day on his construction job.

But Tuesday Meyer worked overtime, and also stopped to pick up his wife at her job.

They were just two blocks away when the plane hit.

Goode Will Seek Mainland Nomination

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tom Goode, former MP for Burnaby-Richmond, said Tuesday night he will be a candidate for the Liberal nomination in that riding in the next federal election.

He made the statement while speaking in suburban Burnaby in support of British Columbia Liberal leader Arthur Laing, a candidate in the Burnaby provincial by-election.

Mr. Goode lost his seat June 10 to Social Credit candidate Thomas Irwin, former speaker of the legislature.

Ike Initials Foreign Aid; On Vacation

Eisenhower made no mention of his previous threat to call Congress back into session if the funds prove inadequate when he signed the $2,768,760,000 money bill Tuesday. He said only that he would do the best with funds provided.

"I will keep a close and continuous watch to see the effects which this serious cut has upon the program during the course of the year," he said. "The administration will, of course, endeavor to administer the program as effectively as possible with the funds which have been made available."

Dope Syndicate Smashed in U.S. Canada Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States justice department today announced the indictment in New York of 46 persons charged with conspiring to import narcotics from France and distribute the drugs in American and Canadian cities.

Areas involved in the operation include New York, Detroit, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Boston, the state of California and Canada, the department said.

The defendants include Harry Stromberg, alias Nig Rosen, PAID IN BAR

In furtherance of the conspiracy, the indictment said, Stromberg is alleged to have paid $40,000 to Nathan Behrman in a New York City bar March 26, 1954. Subsequently, it was charged, Stromberg received sums totalling $75,000 from Anthony Vellucci, named as co-conspirator.

Behrman, named as a defendant, is in the state prison in Attica, N.Y., where he is serving a 20-year sentence for illegal possession of narcotics in 1955. First indication of the size of the roundup came with a roundup of scores of persons in the New York metropolitan area.

Stromberg was the ring's "overall director" for more than 25 years, a government spokesman said.

WORTH MILLIONS

RUSS WARSHIPS SAIL CHANNEL TO YUGOSLAVIA

DOVER, England (AP)—Two Russian ships—presumably a Yugoslavia-bound cruiser and destroyer—steamed westward through the English Channel today.

Admiralty lookouts reported the movement of the vessels, saying they were about four miles off Dover. The cruiser was flying a white flag with a red star.

The Russians announced this week that the cruiser Zhdanov and a minelaying destroyer were en route to Yugoslavia on a goodwill visit.

Dispatches published in Moscow from correspondents aboard the Zhdanov said an American-made Sabre jet without insignia flew "impolitely" over the cruiser while it was passing into the North Sea and a Danish cutter narrowly avoided hitting the ship while a person aboard the cutter took moving pictures.

False Teeth Need A Special Cleanser

Don't Brush Your Plates! Soak Them in Polident As Dentists Suggest

Polident is the recommended way to clean dentures, banish Denture Breath. Just follow these easy rules:

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath".

3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident cleanser is recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates. Polident gets where a brush can't reach.

Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter.

STUTTGART, Germany (Reuters)—Russia is testing an intercontinental missile which could fly the 4,500 miles from Leningrad to New York in 89 minutes, the German news agency DPA quotes a German rocket scientist as saying.

Scientist Eugen Saenger has written a book in which he describes the Russian project as T-4A, a development of a manned rocket bomber he and his wife worked on for Germany during the war. Its range is estimated between 5,000 and 10,000 miles.

Wife's Tip Leads Police To Escapee

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harry S. Dickinson, 40-year-old Oakalla prison escapee, was caught Tuesday at the home of a relative where he had gone to meet his wife.

"You might have given me more time with my wife and children," Dickinson told the arresting officers.

He had escaped Monday night and the news of his escape caused a brief uproar amongst prisoners in one block of Oakalla.

Dickinson, who had been serving one year for breaking and entering, slept out until Tuesday morning, then changed from prison garb. At 9 a.m. he telephoned Wilhelm Harlos, his wife's uncle and asked to see his wife. When told, Mrs. Dickinson telephoned police.

A trap was laid but Dickinson did not appear at the appointed time. At 2 p.m. he came to the Harlos home and asked for $5 to get over the border and a chance to see his wife. He said he had not had a fair trial.

When Dickinson came back at 4 p.m., police closed in on the house. Harlos said he did not try to escape.

Mid-Summer of '58 For Gallery Wing

The proposed new wing of the Art Gallery likely will be completed by midsummer of 1958, gallery curator Colin Graham said today.

The $70,000 addition will be made possible by Greater Victoria centennial year grants. "The coming season will be our best yet," said Mr. Graham, announcing the schedule of showings.

The big show will be a display of 40 etchings by Pablo Picasso, January 7 to 19. It will be the first time Picasso works have been shown in the gallery.

British paintings recently purchased by the National Gallery will be shown September 17 to 29, together with a photo panel of Canadian streets. October 1 to 20 will feature paintings by Gordon Smith of Vancouver.

LONG BEACH Drawing and oil sketches by "Group of Seven" member Arthur Lismer, done at Long Beach on Vancouver Island this summer, will be shown October 22 to November 10.

Victorian Ken McAllister shows photographs of his "First Year in New York" with the Lismer show.

Early English water colors from the Vancouver Art-Gallery will be seen November 12 to December 1, followed December 3 to 15 of prints and drawings from the National Gallery and artists' originals from the National Film Board.

Contemporary French stained glass will be exhibited January 21 to February 9. February 25 to March 16 there will be a display by United States contemporary painters, followed by

Russ Arctic Navy Exercise 'Dramatizing'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Russia's latest bold decision to hold Arctic naval manoeuvres was taken in U.S. navy circles today as an effort to distract attention from one of the West's biggest displays of sea power and teamwork.

Navy sources also speculated that while staging the huge manoeuvre from Sept. 10 to Oct. 15 the Russians may try out some new weapon, hoping to capitalize on a dramatic announcement as they did recently with the firing of an intercontinental ballistic rocket.

The Russian fleet today is estimated to comprise 680 major warships, 1,050 patrol, mine craft and auxiliaries, and 1,650 miscellaneous vessels—a total of 3,380. The warships are 450 submarines, 200 destroyers, 27 cruisers and 3 battleships. The Soviet navy has 3,500 aircraft of which one half are jet fighters and one fourth are light bombers.

Name Stars Plead In Jamaica Railroad Tragedy To Give Evidence

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Scandal-smear movie stars today pleaded for a chance to follow actress Maureen O'Hara and singer Dorothy Dandridge in denying on the witness stand spicy tidbits printed about them in Confidential magazine.

The prosecution Tuesday turned the Confidential criminal libel trial into a stellar attraction by putting Irish-tempered Miss O'Hara and Miss Dandridge, a Negro stage-screen star, on the witness stand. Miss O'Hara angrily denied cuddling in a theatre with a "Latin lover," and Miss Dandridge was just as angry in denying she made love in the woods with a band leader. Miss O'Hara added that she had not received any work offers since the article.

It marked the first time in nearly five weeks of testimony that big name personalities had been called upon to testify. The two celebrities' testimony was hailed as a victory for the entertainment industry in its fight against the so-called scandal magazines.

Prosecutor William Ritzel said he could produce more "first-hand" evidence that Confidential and Whisper magazines

Sabotage Hinted by Engineer

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UP)—The engineer of the train that killed at least 183 persons Sunday in the worst wreck in peacetime history said today its air brakes were defective—or perhaps sabotaged. Reports Tuesday were that 205 bodies had been counted.

Garnish Lurch said he applied the brakes twice as the train headed into "death curve," outside the hill town of Kendal. The brakes had no effect, and air pressure in the system fell off to zero.

Meanwhile offers of aid and messages of sympathy poured today into Jamaica, mourning the train wreck which wrote a tragic ending to a church outing Sunday night.

The United States offered blood plasma and drugs, and crash donations flowed in to a fund launched by the Kingston newspaper Daily Gleaner. Queen Elizabeth sent a message of condolence, as did Sir Hugh Foot, governor of the colony, who is on vacation in England.

Who Pays the Shot?

ELEVEN BRITISH COLUMBIA members of Parliament have asked the Federal Government to take "emergency" action on the problems of our mining industry. The news dispatches do not tell us exactly what action they expect if, indeed, they know themselves.

The only specific proposal so far comes from the mining union. It asks the Government to buy up copper which otherwise would not be sold at the existing price and thus keep the miners of Britannia at work.

Though many branches of mining have been affected by a sharp fall in world metal prices, the situation at Britannia is particularly bad. The owners propose to close those large operations unless the miners will accept a cut of 15 per cent in wages. This the miners refuse to do. They are therefore demanding that the Government come to their rescue.

If the Government buys up copper at Britannia, of course it must be prepared to do the same for all other Canadian mines in difficulty. The possible scope, and cost, of such a policy is incalculable. Moreover, if the state is bound to assist the mining industry in this fashion surely other industries can justly make the same claim. What about our lumber industry, for example?

If the state begins to buy up the products of industry, hoping to sell them to somebody later on, and if it loses money on these sales—as it certainly must if it buys above the world price and sells at that price—then the bill to the taxpayers will be heavy.

In the case of the Britannia mines the taxpayers are asked by the union to subsidize the miners' wages directly. Since the operators cannot pay the present wages then the taxpayer must pay part of them, assuming that the copper bought by the state is sold at a loss.

The subsidy to the miners' wages would come from taxpayers many of whom are not paid as highly as the miners. Are the taxpayers prepared to undertake these costs at Britannia when, after that precedent, they probably would spread to other mines throughout the country?

Here we confront the old law of supply and demand which no state has ever been able to repeal. Its effects can be softened and sometimes postponed. In the end they cannot be controlled if they are operating in the general world market.

A single nation may be able to exercise pretty complete control of its own internal economy through the manipulation of money and other methods of state intervention. But in the world market the nations have never been able to co-operate sufficiently to enforce any such control over demand, supply and resulting prices.

The International Wheat Agreement, to cite an obvious case, was designed to control world wheat prices, and allot the sales of wheat fairly among the producers, but it is only a fiction now. The United States, chief sponsor of the agreement, is giving wheat away under various pretexts. Surplus supplies and insufficient demand wrecked all those hopeful earlier plans.

It is in the world market mainly that our metals must be sold and the market has said lately that supply exceeds demand. Inevitably, therefore, prices have fallen. No Canadian government, no government in the world, can alter those facts or exempt metals from the law of supply and demand.

But this phase will pass. Either the demand will increase or the supply will fall, or both, and metal prices—always sensitive and mercurial—will rise again.

In the meantime every nation that wishes to sell metals or anything else in the world market must sell at the world market price. Its objective should be to keep its costs down so that it can meet that price.

In an extreme case like that at Britannia a rigidity of costs through wages can make normal production impossible. Then, of course, the state may intervene and pay part of the costs at the public expense but the state, after buying up any export product, must sell at the world price like any individual. If the state buys high and sells low there may be a gain for certain local interests but the nation has achieved only a loss.

The Diefenbaker Government no doubt will think hard before it embarks on that kind of wild economic.

Capital Gains

ALDERMAN SMITH SEEMS TO have made a little stir with his proposal to tax capital gains in the interests of education and that doubtless was his purpose. But the idea is not original with him and has been rejected by successive Canadian governments for sound reasons.

Though it is true that a few men make large profits on capital gains and are not taxed on them immediately, they pay income tax on their resulting wealth as they receive it.

In any case no sound law, especially a taxation law, can be based on exceptional circumstances. It must be framed to suit general circumstances and to promote the public welfare at large.

Canadian governments have agreed so far that a capital gains tax would not suit our general circumstances or promote the public welfare at large. For its net effect would be to discourage the very sort of risk, venture and enterprise that opens new industries, enriches the nation and provides increased income to be taxed in due course.

The difficulty, of course, is to define a capital gain and distinguish it from some kinds of income. The tax authorities of Canada have been growing extremely strict of late on that score and sometimes class as income what an ordinary citizen might consider a capital gain.

For that reason it is sometimes argued that we should impose a capital gains tax and thus make sure that only true capital gains are taxed as such, that they should never be taxed, at a much higher rate, as income.

This argument is appealing at first sight. It seems to offer an easy way out of the present disputes between various taxpayers and the Government.

Experience in the United States, however, does not support those hopes. There a capital gains tax has long been imposed but it has not ended disputes between the taxpayer and the tax collector. The Americans are always disputing and their courts are deciding what really constitutes a capital gain and what is purely income.

It seems unlikely, therefore, that any foreseeable Government in Canada will introduce the capital gains tax as urged by Mr. Smith, a Social Creditor and member of the party which claims to be the only true champion of private enterprise.

It would be interesting to know, though, whether Mr. Smith represents a new view in his party, whether Social Credit is swinging toward the capital gains tax. Comment from Mr. Bennett will be awaited with interest.

But it begins to look as if Mr. Smith had found his way into the wrong party. The capital gains tax is the major financial plank in the C.C.F. platform, almost a patented invention. Rather than infringe the patent perhaps Mr. Smith should be consistent and join the socialist party where no doubt his financial talents will be warmly welcomed.

A Joint Responsibility

A RECORD NUMBER OF Greater Victoria school children returned to their classrooms today—19,000 reasons why this community must increase its teaching accommodation each year.

For many of the youngsters it meant a new phase of life—a new beginning in a higher grade with added responsibilities and increased need for initiative and self-reliance. This is particularly the case with junior high and high school pupils whose study methods will be found to differ considerably from those of the lower grades.

As an urban area, Greater Victoria is fortunate in being able to obtain an adequate staff of teachers. That is not the situation all over the province. But to say that a shortage of 200 or more teachers exists is merely to quote a statistic. It must be reviewed in a personal light.

Then it becomes a matter of overcrowding in classrooms, less personal instruction, small rural schools left without an instructor, time and opportunity lost by too many children who deserve better from our society.

Adequate instruction and adequate classrooms form one of the pressing problems of our times. Our young are too precious a raw material to be treated with less than full consideration.

In this fortunate community and others it will now be up to the pupils to prove that our investment in them is not over-optimistic. A new term is at hand, to be used to full advantage or irretrievably lost through carelessness. Greater Victoria school children in years past have earned an enviable reputation. The present generation has a duty to fulfil, and by all accounts will acquit itself well.

Money Isn't Everything

WELL, I'm glad it's over—the tourist season, that is. Not that I have anything against tourists, poor things. They do their best, I'm sure. And goodness knows how some of us would live if it weren't for the tourists' money. But that's just the trouble—their money. And that's why I'm glad it's all over now. Because with the tourists gone home their money should disappear from local circulation. The handful of change the clerks slide across the counter to you will be all Canadian again. For another half-year at least, our currency will be our own.

Tobin

It's not that I have anything against tourists' money, either. I'm quite willing to accept it at par, and have been doing so for the past few months. The trouble is that the people I try to hand it on to are more fussy. And that's where my problem comes in.

The exchange rate has been making our economists and financiers worry. Exporters and importers have had their troubles too. With all the U.S. funds flooding into the country there's a great bidding to buy Canadian dollars with American dollars.

Economic Seesaw

This ends up with the buyers willing to pay more and more American dollars for their Canadian dollars, just as the price of ice cream cones goes up when everybody has money but there isn't enough ice cream to go round. It got to the point a few days ago where Americans were willing to pay $1.06 of their currency for one dollar of ours.

But all that's for the experts. My problem isn't economic so much as psychological.

To put it in a nutshell, I seem to have become a one-way street for Yankee coins. Every day or so I find that some where along the line I've been given an American quarter or half-dollar in my change. I never notice it at the time. I can never remember to examine the money. But when I go to spend it, all without noticing, the chances are that the other fellow makes a specialty of spotting such things.

"There'll be two cents off that," he says with a suspicious look.

Foreign Land

Sometimes they even push the coin back at me with a snarl. I've had that happen even with a coin so close to home as a Newfoundland 50-cent piece. Perhaps the news about the latest entry into Confederation hasn't reached some cashiers yet.

At any rate, any of these responses leaves you feeling like a crook. Although you never even knew you had the money, you immediately find yourself assuming a counterfeit's air. You hunch into your coat collar, look out from under your brows, and talk out of the side of your mouth.

The "hot" currency skitters back across the counter to you. You pocket it with a muttered explanation that doesn't convince even yourself, fish out another coin, and shamble off as though you were sneaking away to another meeting of the international ring, of which you so obviously are a member.

It's a harrowing experience and I've become tired of my role. I had thought of various ways to cope with the situation. Examining every coin I receive would perhaps be the easiest way, but that would entail periodic rows in stores and cafes, with me as the indignant citizen and the clerk as the skulking schemer. Somehow I didn't feel up to it.

Another thought I had was to pass myself off as an American tourist. Everybody expects American tourists to have American coins. They may be pitted but they aren't blamed. However, this plan had certain disadvantages and I had to abandon it.

Too Harrowing

For one thing, there would be the added expense of paying tourist prices for everything—a far greater hardship than the exchange loss. And when I thought of the other aspect—dressing like an American tourist—well I knew I couldn't go through with it. Writing out cheques for everything including cups of coffee was too cumbersome and expensive. Not buying anything until the tourist season was over proved too onerous, to say nothing of making me too hungry and thirsty.

So I sweated it out. And I'm glad it's all over now.

Once again I can accept money in change without worrying about it. I can fling a coin on the counter without feeling like a miner with sand in his gold dust. The tourists have given Canada back to us and about time too.

Incidentally, would anybody like a pocketful of U.S. coins, in the smaller denominations?

THE OTHER SIDE

Paradoxically, this country (Britain), for all that it has one foot in the Middle Ages, is in many respects the most progressive, humane and intelligent in the world. I remember when Cumberland and Durham were depressed areas; now they are pulsating with inventiveness and development—steel, chemicals, engineering, ships on one side of the Pennines, on the other (where in my time, children of 14 were at work for eight shillings a week) the world's first full-scale atomic power station—clean, clinical, smokeless, silent, symbolic of a people who do not always just "muddle through."

Facts on the Sink By-Law

In recent weeks the City Council Health and Welfare Committee of which I am chairman, has been attacked in letters appearing in the press for the stand we have taken in the so-called "sink question."

At the outset I must make it clear that for the protection of the general public, landlords and tenants alike, our health and sanitary by-laws have been carefully drawn up both to maintain adequate, decent standards of accommodation and to prevent housing conditions from deteriorating. The majority of multiple dwellings owners recognize this fact and have complied with the requirements. I have been accused of being confused, and even worse, of having misstated the facts. It is indeed time that the record be put straight.

(a) At the time of the enactment of the "Regulation of Dwellings By-Law," in 1949, 8,407 dwelling units housing 10,285 persons were affected. Of these 6,895 dwelling units met the requirements, leaving 1,512 not complying.

(b) Since that time 762 dwelling units, or about half of those then not complying have had plumbing work done.

(c) Of the remaining 750, no protest was received from owners of 278 premises, controlling about 450 units, when notices were sent out from the sanitary department. Nor was any response received from these when the Ratepayers' Association, with names and addresses provided by the sanitary department itself, attempted to get support for its petition. It would, therefore, be logical to assume that 60% of those still not complying are satisfied that the requirements of the by-law are reasonable.

(d) We are left with 82 owners, responsible for 304 dwelling units, who now want exemption from the by-law. It is perhaps not generally realized that for the six years preceding the 1936 zoning those who are now petitioning for relief enjoyed virtual freedom from the regulations being applied to others in the same business. Apart from the obvious health and sanitary aspects of the question it would be clearly unfair to leave a minority of landlords in a privileged position in relation to their competitors.

It has been alleged that enforcement of the by-law as it stands would work unjustified hardships on both owners and tenants. At the same time it has been stated that I suggested that the recent increase in the old age pension could be applied to higher rents to pay for sink installations.

This latter charge, which is utterly false, appears to be a cruel attempt to frighten some of our elderly citizens into supporting a position which could only result in perpetuation of sub-standard living conditions for themselves.

It is certainly not the intention of my committee to take an inflexible or arbitrary position in this matter but rather the opposite. In a recent report to council we met the request of the Ratepayers' Association by recommending a change in the regulations governing bathrooms. Furthermore, with respect to sinks for food preparation, we proposed that the by-law be amended to permit the medical health officer to approve alternative facilities provided they are found to be satisfactory from the standpoint of sanitation and health.

Surely no one would want the by-law relaxed to the extent that slum conditions could be allowed to make a start in this city. I am firmly convinced that everyone with the welfare of Victoria at heart will agree.

(MRS.) LILY WILSON, Alderman.

Colonial Stinkers

IT was grand to read Friday's paper that you are worried about the new isolationism in America, because this scribe is worried about the new isolationism in Canada—the isolationism of thought and criticism.

You see that hulk of impertinent "traveling British journalist" who was in town the other week is still around. You state: "He said it was a mistake to appoint a Canadian to the office of Governor-General." Actually he said nothing of the sort. If I had said it I would have expected the criticism to have been dealt with on its merits and not merely because it was said by a traveling British journalist, or on the basis of one outstanding Governor-General.

I agree that your conclusion could be inferred; but it was not said, and it was deliberately not said because I did not want sensitive little stinkers like your goodness, sir, to be upset.

For the record would you kindly note that what I told the Kiwanis—and I spoke from manuscript—was that I would like to see the Queen take up residence in Canada and the other dominions for limited periods. I next dared to express the opinion that the archaic "council of state" which replaces the Queen when she is absent from Britain should itself be replaced by a Governor-General. I then added and even went to the extent of saying (in case there were any sensitive little stinkers present) that I hoped I was not sticking my neck out, but that I did not like native-born Governors-General—you gave two of my reasons but omitted the most important one—and that I hoped a Canadian would be given the job when the Queen took up residence in Canada.

The most important reason is that the whole conception of the Crown is that it is apart from politics; and that should apply to the Queen's representative in the territory in which he or she serves.

I abhor the introduction of personalities into what is a constitutional argument, but I will add that the first native-born Governor-General ever appointed in the Commonwealth—Mr. Justice Isaacs of Australia—was also an outstanding person but that does not say that Australia has not had a very different experience since then.

I was concerned with principles not with personalities. I was concerned not that particular matter with Britain and not with Canada. The fact that an outstanding man can surmount a problem does not make the principle right.

What disturbed me most, however, is the attitude of mind which assumes that only a Canadian is entitled to criticize Canada or Canadians. Surely that is the most dangerous isolationism of all? And if big dogs must eat little dogs—well, at least G-R-T-T-T to you, sir.

Daily Colonist Office.

FROM ESSEN, GERMANY By JOSEPH ALSOP

The Old Campaigner

BY ANY sensible test, the most important news in Germany today is probably a medical item. At the age of 81, Konrad Adenauer looks rather younger and is rather more vigorous in action than five years ago. Five years ago, to be sure, the Chancellor of Germany was engaged in a day-and-night haggling match with the Allied High Commissioners for the final, difficult termination of Germany's post-war tutelage. And when he received this reporter in 1952, he was visibly a very tired man.

After that, he marched into the 1953 elections like a giant refreshed. He came out, too, with an improbable triumph. He achieved an absolute majority for his Christian Democratic Party in the face of a complex multi-party system carefully designed to prevent anything of the sort.

Today, the leaders of the opposition really appear to be deeply afraid that Adenauer will now pile the impossible on top of the improbable. At any rate, a main point in the opposition propaganda is a rather plaintive argument that it is "undemocratic" for any party to enjoy an absolute majority—which clearly suggests that Adenauer may get such majority for a second time hand-running.

Needless to say, the Chancellor answers this opposition argument with visible relish.

Dominant Figure

Predicting elections, particularly other people's elections, is a foolish business. But one cannot help being absorbed by this German election simply because one cannot help being fascinated by Konrad Adenauer, who would still dominate the drama, even if he were doomed to defeat.

Outwardly, there is no change at all in Adenauer at 81, beyond a certain invigoration. He is still erect, still brisk in movement, still given to the same curious abrupt gestures, at once wooden and commanding. The voice is still deep, rather harsh and often edged with a biting irony.

In the broad, seamed face the same sharp little eyes still peer out upon the world with the same mixture of hope and scorn, infinite disillusionment and passionate belief in the human future.

Inwardly, too, there does not appear to be much change in Konrad Adenauer. A serious talk with him is a return to the heroic period of the cold war when the peoples of the West had not succumbed to the delusion that the defence of freedom in the world is a second priority problem which can be solved at cut-rate prices.

Divided Germany will finally be reunified, the Chancellor tells you with grim confidence, because the Soviet Union will not be able to maintain the present unnatural division of Europe forever. And then he adds, even more grimly:

"But I must be permitted to make another most emphatic remark. If the Russians think that Western unity is breaking down or Western strength is weakening, then they will never give way. They will hold out further."

Continued Unrest

"Always strong, always united, the West must also show that we are always ready to come to an understanding when the Soviets will meet us half way. But as long as Russia has not given way, the world will continue in a state of unrest."

"And so if we are strong, we shall win, and if we weaken, we shall lose the game in the end."

Yet this man who speaks this unbending and grand language on the great problems is also a wicked, political fighter when he takes to the stump. Here in Essen, he fills three vast halls on a rainy night and there are fights at the doors among the latecomers.

He did not neglect the big issues. It was notable, in fact, that he got his loudest, longest cheers with a genuinely noble passage on the new Germany's dedication to European partnership.

But during at least three-quarters of his hour-long speech, he was pouring it on the opposition as vigorously as Harry Truman in his heyday, with his little eyes flashing wickedly all the while and the audience roaring with sympathetic laughter or shuddering with answering alarm.

Decidedly Unfair

It must be added that the Chancellor was decidedly unfair to his chief opponent, the German Socialist leader, Erich Ollenhauer, whom he virtually pictured as wishing to transform West Germany into a Soviet satellite.

As anyone can see who talks at length with Ollenhauer, this extremely decent, serious and earnest man has no real intention of abandoning or even weakening Germany's links with the West. He only wants to try another way of negotiating—to be sure an almost certainly foredoomed new way of negotiating—with the Soviets.

Indeed, this election is also unfair to Ollenhauer. His views are interesting and deserve more extensive discussion. But with Adenauer on the hustling at 81, his powerful embattled figure somehow fills the whole centre of the stage. (C) 1957 New York Herald Tribune Inc.

Needed: $55 Million

NEW YORK — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld estimates that it is going to cost almost 55 million United States dollars to run the United Nations next year, an increase of almost $4,000,000 over the 1957 total.

The Budgetary Committee of the General Assembly, looking over Mr. Hammarskjöld's estimates, has let out a yelp and recommended a cut of more than $1,000,000. It will be for the General Assembly to decide whether the Secretary-General gets the full amount or not.

Why does it cost so much to operate the United Nations? Expanding staff and rising salaries, says Mr. Hammarskjöld, plus the increase in the membership to 81 nations, which means that much more work to be done.

Then, there are two important conferences to be financed in 1958—one in March on the law of the sea, and one in September on atoms for peace. In addition, the Secretary-General wants to bolster the already-massive public information activities of the United Nations by building a television studio here at a cost of $160,000. The budgetary committee admits that the conferences have to be held, but it recommends that the television studio request be denied.

Lynch

HEAVY TASKS

In fact, says the committee, there should be a reduction in the level of public information activities, and a thorough investigation should be made into UN expenditures in this field, and that, pending such an investigation, every effort should be made to keep expenditures for public information within a target limit of $4,500,000.

The Secretary-General estimates that the UN's expenditure for public information in 1957 will total more than $4,800,000, and for 1958 he asks more than $4,900,000 for this purpose. The department of public information has 224 employees here at UN headquarters, and 152 employees in 21 information centres abroad.

In his over-all budget, Mr. Hammarskjöld proposed increasing the secretariat from 3,758 employees to 3,822—the budgetary committee asked that a cutback be made if possible. The committee said it would like to see more signs that the secretariat was handling the staff problem in the most economical way, and that administrative management procedures were being improved.

Mr. Hammarskjöld pleaded that his figures represented "as full a measure of stability as can prudently be sought without harming the interest of the organization."

He added: "Heavy tasks have been placed on the secretariat which must be so equipped, as regards staffing and in other respects, as to stand ready at all times to deal efficiently and promptly with any situation that may arise."

DEDICATED TO JOB

This observer, from close observation of the secretariat at work, would be inclined to agree with Mr. Hammarskjöld that this is a well-kept house. If the secretariat contains some minor empire-builders bent on expanding their own segments of the headquarters operation, there would appear to be no more of them than in any governmental offices anywhere. Most people here seem to be dedicated men and women trying to do a useful job at a reasonable price, and in many cases they lack the money and the tools to do their best work.

That television studio Mr. Hammarskjöld is requesting, for example, is needed to relieve extreme pressure on existing facilities, which simply cannot handle the demands put upon it during the last General Assembly session. Because of inadequate facilities, programs that should have been completed in an hour sometimes required a full day to make, with a consequent increase in expenditure, sometimes at double and triple over-time rates.

And yet, it is difficult to quarrel with the budgetary committee when it says that "every effort should be made to ensure a proper balance between the resources expended on public information activities, and those allocated to the organization's important responsibilities in the substantive fields." In other words, says the committee, spend less on telling the world about the UN's achievements, and more on the achievements themselves.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Draft Does It

LONDON—at random . . . If you saw that classic of safe-breaking, the French film Rififi, you'll know that the ingenuity of professional burglars can overcome practically any obstacle put in their way. But a burglar protection device has been evolved here that would seem to be absolutely fool proof. The burglar can't approach it to put it out of action without setting off the alarm.

Reyburn

Here's how it works. The room that contains the safe or whatever it is that needs protection is draft-proofed and fitted with an extractor which keeps the air pressure in the room constant. Anyone entering the room through a door or a window or by breaking a hole in a wall at once lets new air in and changes the pressure, which at once sets off a mechanism in the fan which sounds the alarm.

But the alarm warns the burglar, you say. Not at all. The alarm is a silent call to Scotland Yard, who at once send a squad car to drop in on the safe-breaker hard at work.

STOCK BROKERS in this country are likely soon to do something which for them will be quite revolutionary—advertise. Unlike Canada and the U.S., where ads by brokerage firms are an everyday thing, in England men whose business it is to deal on the stock exchange are regarded in a class with professional men such as doctors and dentists, for whom advertising to drum up trade is considered not the thing.

But Sir John Braithwaite, chairman of the stock exchange, has just told its members: "A considerably increased expenditure on stock exchange publicity, including the possibility of national advertising, will, I think, become increasingly desirable and advantageous."

This idea is getting acceptance from stock brokers, who point out that in Canada and the U.S.—there is not the cleavage between "capital" and "labor" because so many workers are also capitalists, knowing how to play the market and doing so.

Here, because of no advertising the average person doesn't know how to go about buying and selling stocks and shares. If he did, he would be as much concerned about dividends and market movements as he is about the size of his pay packet and labor conditions.

A COMMON TERM in England now for television (and a very appropriate one, many people say) is "the idiot's lantern." Is this one the English thought up for themselves or is it borrowed from your side of the Atlantic?

QUOTE from the Bishop of Leicester: "When I see the multitudes of young people thronging to hear a contemporary crooner, I wonder whether the church's musical advisers are living in the real world or in a world of fantasy."

TALLULAH BANKHEAD, when here to appear in cabaret, has given the English a new word that has been latched onto, especially by the Mayfair social set—"I'm an egrazaphobist," she says. Meaning: one who avoids work.

Bennett's 'Gains' Aid Sacred Ladies

Premier Bennett claimed campaign last spring when he Tuesday he has raised "a couple of hundred dollars" for the Social Credit Women's Auxiliary through sale of old Alberta scrip money.

Reporters attending the premier's press conference spotted a pile of the Aberhart government "dividend" currency on the premier's desk.

He admitted he was still carrying on the trade, started during the federal election campaign last spring when he was in Saskatchewan.

The premier said it was valued and offered $10 for each $1 note. He said he could get $20 for each one.

Mr. Bennett was promptly flooded with the "funny money" and some time ago called off his offer. But he's apparently still trying to get rid of the accumulation.

Secretive about his market, the premier identified his biggest buyer only as a "prominent Victoria businessman."

30 Passengers From Liner Hit by Bug

QUEBEC (CP)—The symptoms of a disease caught by about 30 passengers of the Cunard liner Ivernia are similar to those of general influenza, a Quebec City medical officer said today.

Dr. Berchmans Paquet said the adults and children taken off the Ivernia Tuesday night and sent to a hospital for contagious diseases have sore throats, slight coughs, and fevers of 100-102 degrees.

He said he could not, for the moment, confirm or deny that the disease was Asiatic flu.

The Ivernia continued on for Montreal, where she is expected early today.

Dr. Paquet said the symptoms defy exact analysis for the moment, but an expert from the federal government health department is flying to Quebec City today to take samples of throat mucus and examine the patients more thoroughly. None of the patients is in serious condition, he said.

Immigration officials in Quebec said the personnel of the Ivernia were thoroughly examined before the ship was allowed to continue to Montreal.

Quarantine officers went aboard and gave medical checks, they said.

"We couldn't quarantine a ship on presumption alone," an immigration department spokesman said.

An official of the immigration department's quarantine service said he saw no reason to quarantine the ship when she reaches Montreal. The outbreak did not appear too serious.

Poor Man's Orchid Showy, Yet Dainty

When British Columbia celebrates her centenary next year, it is Victoria who will be expected to lead the way in floral decoration. Store and home windows should all have their quota of flowers, but the preparations must commence now.

An easy-to-grow, long-lasting flowering pot plant is the schizanthus, an annual which enjoys quite cool growing conditions and will flower indoors even in poor light from the end of April through June.

Known in some parts as the butterfly-flower, and others as the poor-man's-orchid, schizanthus seed should be sown indoors now, and the seedlings pricked out into three-inch pots of sandy compost. There they remain during winter in a light window or porch where they will be free from frost at night.

An unheated greenhouse is suitable, if newspapers are carefully placed over the plants on cold nights.

During February, according to the season, the little plants will begin to make rapid growth. Before the roots reach the sides of the pots, three of the plants should be potted into an eight-inch pot, or one into a five-and-a-half-inch.

From then on, the plants require good light, adequate watering but no high temperatures. Pinching of all growths at least twice will ensure bushiness, and once the roots have again just about filled the pots weekly feeding will be needed.

The schizanthus is showy, yet dainty, the myriads of colorful blossoms make a display which attracts much attention by their

Rotarians Hear Talk On Seaway

CHEMAINUS—Vastness and scope of one of the biggest and costliest engineering projects of all time, the St. Lawrence Seaway, was brought home to members of the Rotary Club here.

A documentary film in full color, entitled "The Eighth Sea," showed in detail the multiple engineering projects that make up the huge seaway project. Over 3,000 pieces of heavy equipment are at work on the job expected to be completed in 1959 at a cost of a billion dollars.

Purpose of the project is to provide passage for ocean-going ships from Montreal to ports on the Great Lakes, and to produce hydro-electric power.

It was announced the club was second in the district in attendance last month with an average at five meetings of 96 per cent.

3 Impaired Drivers Fined At Duncan

DUNCAN—Three men from various Island points were found guilty Tuesday in police court of impaired driving on the weekend.

Daniel A. Swanson, Lady Smith, jailed Saturday night after going through a red light on Trunk Road, had his licence suspended for 30 days and was fined $150 and $6.50 costs.

Richard H. Douglas, 18, of Chemainus, was fined $150 and $6.50 costs for impaired driving, $25 and $3 costs for driving without insurance, and $25 and $3 costs for being in possession of alcoholic beverages while under the age of 21.

Gaelen Martin, 22, HMCS Venture in Victoria, rolled his car over on a hill north of here. He was fined $150 and $6.50 costs.

Cumberland Fire Crew Fastest Over 'Make and Break' Course

DUNCAN—A four-man team from Cumberland Fire Department, competing in the Vancouver Island Firefighters' Association semi-annual convention and competition, won the Allen Cup for fastest time over a "make and break" course.

They completed the course in five minutes 56 seconds. Only 18 seconds behind was the Lake Cowichan team that won the cup last fall at Yebou.

Other finishers and their times were Harewood, 6:24; Chemainus No. 1, 6:26; North Cowichan, south end, 6:36; Chemainus No. 2, 6:46; Colwood, 7:30; Mesachie Lake, 7:40.

Judges for the contest were Chief William Pearson, Oak Bay; H. C. Davidson, Vancouver; William Brown, Chemainus; and Chief Colin McArthur, Nanaimo. Starter was

Presentation of trophies and individual cups followed an open air picnic supper under a huge maple tree on the playground.

BABY'S CRY SAVES FAMILY

PARKSVILLE—A father threw two children to safety from an upstairs window here Tuesday when a fire of undetermined origin destroyed their home.

Two other children in the family were saved by their mother, who dragged them along the floor to the front door as flames singed her hair. A fifth child was spending the night with her grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dean Edgar credited the crying of a baby with saving their lives.

Fish Played It Cagey At Pt. Alberni

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—The fish weren't biting for the last day of the three-day open derby here, sponsored by the Port Alberni Tye Club.

Out of 200 contestants Monday, only two women had their names on the board at the end of the day.

Mrs. N. Sabarin of Lady Smith caught a 37-pound, 10-ounce Tye, while Mrs. L. Surrey of Port Alberni came back with a 33-pound, 11-ounce catch.

OUT OF BOUNDS

The judges decided Mrs. Sabarin's fish was caught out of bounds so awarded the $100 first prize for the day to Mrs. Surrey.

A $25 special prize for the three days went to Al Dow of Port Alberni. He caught a 47-pound, two-ounce specimen Saturday, winning the $100 first prize for that day, which saw 14 Tye weighing 425 pounds, 13 ounces caught.

Dave Warnogh, with a 41-pound, 14-ounce catch, was second Saturday.

Murray Snell took Sunday's $100 with a 35-pound, nine-ounce fish and the $25 second money went to Mrs. Sabarin. Her fish weighed 35 pounds, four ounces.

20% Boost In Entries For Fair at Duncan

DUNCAN—Defence Minister George Pearkes, VC, will officially open the sixth annual Class B three-day Cowichan Exhibition Thursday at 2 p.m.

A guard of honor will be provided by Cowichan Branch No. 53 of the Canadian Legion.

George Latham, exhibition secretary, reports that entries are about 20 per cent above last year.

This is expected to be the last year the exhibition will be held in the old agricultural grounds. The Cowichan Agricultural Society has an option on a 10-acre site adjacent to Pioneer Park, James Street, and plans to erect exhibition buildings, including a 100-foot show building.

It was estimated that there were about 2,000 entries submitted before the deadline Saturday evening. Cattle were the most numerous, with 350. In garden produce sections there were 204 entries. Light horse entries total 70, including Sky Bingo, owned by C. C. Carpenter, Victoria, winner of the open jumping Labor Day at Saanich Fair.

Other entries are: 4-H clubs, 65 animals; field produce, 52; fruit, 33; honey, 22; district exhibits, three; flowers, 141; domestic science, 150; fancy and fine arts, 123; photography, 72; Indian exhibits, seven; junior exhibits, 264.

The 13th annual red and white Ayrshire show will be held for the first time in Duncan in conjunction with the fair.

Special awards will be the Vancouver Island Ayrshire Club shield for the best two females bred on the Island by one exhibitor, and the Haugland Trophy for the best fitted calf shown by a member of an Ayrshire club.

KINSMEN NEW CHAMPS OF LITTLE LEAGUERS

CHEMAINUS—Kinsmen won the Little League playoff championship and the A. E. Beasley Memorial Trophy this week by edging Community Centre, 18-17, in a wild-scoring contest.

The victory was well deserved by the Kinsmen who finished last in regular league play. They defeated Community Centre, league pennant winners, in two straight games.

Spring Water to Boost Brentwood Supplies

BRENTWOOD—One hundred need for adequate and pure water.

Its water investment at Maher Ridge, where two reservoir tanks of 100,000-gallon capacity each are established, and the general pumping and piping layout, including Brentwood district and the newly extended $30,000 pipeline to the Sea Drive area, represents a $200,000 investment.

Within the next few weeks, according to water board officials, this volume of clear spring water will be diverted into the existing mains which have been supplying the Brentwood area with water pumped from Elk Lake.

The average householder's water bill every two months has been $5, but in future an additional 50 cents will be charged. This is considered by the water board as a reasonable advance in view of this year's increase of the federal department of transport charge to 23 cents per 1,000 gallons, and increased development costs.

The water board has been making progress this year in its efforts to solve Brentwood's holding 40,000 gallons.

JUNIOR PETES REQUIRE ONE MORE TO HIT FINAL

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — Peterborough Juniors downed Brampton Tuesday 14-9 to take a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Canada junior lacrosse finals.

In a fast, clean game Peterborough led 6-2 at the end of the first period, 9-3 at the end of the second. Brampton took the third 6-5. Three of the four penalties went to Brampton.

Winners of the series will meet either Victoria Shamrocks or Winnipeg Combines for the Minto Cup, emblematic of Canadian junior supremacy.

YANKEES GAIN

Warren Posts Another Mark

By United Press

Southpaw Warren Spahn, with another National League record under his belt, is shaping up more and more as the logical choice to pitch the opening World Series game for Milwaukee Braves.

In the American League, the Yankees increased their lead to relieved starter Jack Sanford in 5½ games with a 2-0 triumph over the Orioles, while the Tigers scored an 11-inning 3-2 hit, was credited with his victory over the White Sox in the only other game scheduled.

The 36-year-old Spahn, who began his Major League career last year, is shaping up more and more as the logical choice to pitch the opening World Series game for Milwaukee Braves.

Spahn's victory over the Cubs was his eighth in a row and it was achieved with the help of Hank Aaron, who hit his 39th home run with two on off later Dick Littlefield.

Braves thereby maintained their comfortable 8½-game lead over the second-place Cardinals, who crushed the Redlegs 14-4. Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Dodgers, 3-2, in 12 innings, and the Giants beat Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5, in 12 innings.

The Giants won their 12-inning game from the Pirates when Ray Jablonski's sacrifice fly brought in Danny O'Connell. Valmy Thomas sent the game into extra innings with a homer in the ninth. Prior to that, Willie Mays and O'Connell had walloped two-run homers.

Hot, Yes, But Only Bilko Gains

By The Associated Press

The two hottest Pacific Coast League contests as the season draws toward an end are Vancouver's attempt to overtake San Francisco and Steve Bilko's attack on the league home run record.

The big Los Angeles first baseman hit No. 53 and 54 Tuesday night as the Angels smothered a basement-bogged Portland 12-0. The record is 60, hit by Tony Lazzeri for Salt Lake City in 1925. Bilko's Angels have 16 games yet to play.

Another home run Tuesday night—Al Heist in the 10th inning—enabled Sacramento to edge San Diego 6-5. Seattle shaded Vancouver's runner-up Mounties 4-3 and Hollywood downed San Francisco's Seals 5-3. That left the Seals still 3½ games ahead.

Bilko added a single to his two homers in five trips. Angel catcher Earl Battey also homered twice as his battery mate, Connie Grob, held the hapless Beavers to three harmless hits.

WINNING BLOW

Heist's game winning homer for Sacramento, his seventh of the season, was one of four in that contest. Jim Greengrass hit his 19th for the Solons. Preston Ward banged his 20th and Bob Lennon his 12th for the Padres. Lennon's, in the ninth, tied the count at 5-5 and sent the game into overtime.

Leo Rodriguez drove in four of Hollywood's five runs, enough to beat the Seals and pull the third-place stars to within five games of the league leaders.

The Mounties' Jim Marshall cracked two four-baggers, his 28th and 29th of the season, but for a lost cause as the Rainiers

MICKY AILING

Casey Has Reason to Frown

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel's biggest worry about whether the New York Yankees can hold their 5½-game lead in the American League seems to be injuries to his team.

"If that fella is all right, well, if he isn't we're in a bad plight."

The "fella" he pointed to in the batting practice cage was Mickey Mantle and he exemplified Stengel's mental crossing of his fingers on the injury jinx.

Mantle isn't "all right" and it's showing in the Yankee performance. The great hit-

Bradshaw Most Valuable; McKay Banned for Series

Good news for Victoria Shamrocks and sad tidings for Nanaimo Timbermen came out of a special Inter-City Lacrosse League meeting at New Westminster Tuesday night.

Chunky Peeewe Bradshaw, enjoying the greatest of his three seasons with the Rocks, has been named the league's most valuable player and the Timbermen will have to get along without the services of star Skip McKay when they resume their Western Canada final against the Shamrocks at Memorial Arena tonight.

League secretary Tommy Gordon announced that Bradshaw, who finished second to Victoria's Jack Bionda in the league scoring race, has been awarded the Maitland Trophy. The hustling forward was voted the player who best combined value to his team, sportsmanship and assistance to minor lacrosse during the season.

TOUGH OPPOSITION

Voted the most popular player with the Shamrocks for the past two seasons, Bradshaw won out over Bionda, goalie Dave Unwin of Vancouver, Jack Byford of New Westminster and Derry Davies Nanaimo, who were also considered by the selection committee.

McKay, the veteran defenseman who has been one of the main cogs in the Nanaimo machine this year, was suspended for the balance of the current series by league commissioners. He could, however, be available for the Canadian final.

McKay clipped referee Earl MacDonald during an argument over a penalty call to a teammate during the opening game of the series last Wednesday.

ONE CHANGE

With one exception, coach Archie Brown's spot on the third line with Bert Bertola and Bobby Bremner and call in Art Green for utility duty.

Bill Bamford and Al Davies and Low Landess and Jackie Northup will form the defensive combinations in front of goalie Gordie Johnston. Bionda, Bradshaw and Bob Dobbie will remain together on the first line and Ed Kowalyk will again team with Don Sherry and Alan Gill in the second unit.

Game time tonight is 8:30.

Oak Bay Swamped In Series Opener

Saanich Farmers swamped Oak Bay, 17-6, at Stevenson Park, Tuesday, to go one game up in their best-of-three series for the Greater Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association midget division championship.

Wayne Cannon pulled the trigger on five goals and George Grover collected four in the rugged contest.

The next game will be played Thursday, at 3:30 p.m., at Stevenson Park.

AND YANKS SLUMP

going from first to third. They beat us one game this season by just hitting the ball in front of the plate."

Hank Bauer is another of the injured Yankee players who had Stengel frowning more than natural. Bauer has a fractured thumb and may be out for another week.

Stengel, thinking along the lines of a plague of hurts, mentioned that second baseman Bobby Richardson is just recovering from the sideline list.

But the big worry is Mantle. The switch-hitting ace still is hobbling like an old man with arthritis in his legs.

His batting average dropped seven points, from .377 to .370, in the three game series with the Baltimore Orioles ending Tuesday. He got one hit in five times at bat.

Equally important to the Yankee scheme is Mantle's inability to show any speed covering the outfield. Fly balls which he normally would catch with ease are dropping in for him simply because he can't reach them. One such went for a double over his head against the Orioles.

Fading Act By Victoria Has Effect

TRAIL (CP) — Calgary Wranglers took the opening game in a scheduled best-of-seven series for the Western Canada senior "A" men's softball title when they clipped Castlegar Merchants 3-1 Tuesday.

There is doubt as to whether the series should be called the financial risk. The B.C. senior softball body approved the Victoria move.

But this year the B.C. champions are Victoria Gorge Hotel, who were the winners in 1956 also. Victoria defeated Castlegar Monday night for the title.

Victoria refused to play the championship because in past years the playoff had been a bad financial risk. The B.C. senior softball body approved the Victoria move.

GOT GUARANTEE

But Calgary Wranglers, Western Canada champs in 1956, agreed to put their title on the line against Castlegar if a sufficient guarantee were given. The Merchants provided the guarantee.

Ed Corbett of Calgary, president of the Western Canada Softball Association, is reported to have approved the seven-game series. Official confirmation of the series is expected later today when Castlegar officials get in touch with Corbett.

Clothiers Climb To Final Berth

Fletcher moved into the final round of the Senior "B" Men's Softball Knockout Cup competition at Heywood Park, Tuesday, as they stopped Firefighters, 10-2, behind the three-hit pitching of veteran Ken Sturrock.

The other finalist will be determined tonight at 6:30 at Heywood when Mary's Coffee Bar tackles Re-refined Oil. Each club has been defeated in one game.

Clothiers play the winner on Thursday night at 6:30, at Heywood.

JASPER (CP) — Ten of the 16 golfers still in match play in the annual men's tottem pole tournament are from Pacific Coast cities. The other six are from Prairie cities and Houston, Tex.

In the women's division all 16 are from either Vancouver, Victoria or Seattle.

W. G. (Bud) Campbell of Seattle, who won the men's qualifying round, advanced Tuesday by eliminating Lee Cameron of Vancouver.

Other results in the men's section included a 4 and 3 win by Gordon Verley of Victoria over G. Max Bell of Calgary. Verley was runnerup to Bing Crosby in 1947 and to J. Edgar Green of Seattle in 1948.

Mrs. J. H. Todd of Victoria, a former Tottem Pole champion and low scorer in the qualifying round, earned a berth in the second round of match play by defeating Mrs. Dorothy Baldwin of Seattle in the first round 4 and 2.

The women's division also included a win by Mrs. Harold Ross of Victoria over Mrs. Ross McPherson of Edmonton.

Navy In Debut Friday; Reginans Join Oak Bay

Bert Nelson's Navy team, Vampires, who last week dropped a 21-8 verdict to Oak Bay, will be back in action at Tuesday's meeting. Don plague rival squads, make their Douglas was appointed commissioner of the Victoria Inter-senior of the junior league, mediate Football League season. Otherwise, the meeting was Friday night at Royal Athletic strictly a routine affair dealing with finalization of schedule.

A change in the schedule, approved at a league meeting held Tuesday night, will send Nelson's Warriors against Mayo nounced the acquisition of two new players—both from Regina—to bolster the squad.

The players are Gib Forbes, a six-foot, two-inch fullback who can also double as linebacker, and Len Biden, a six-foot, one-inch end. Both are products of Regina's junior Rams, entry in the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Junior League.

Forbes, a standout with Rams last year when they finished atop the four-team league, was still on the roster of Saskatchewan Roughriders before he decided to leave for the west coast. Biden chose to come to the west coast over an offer to play with Sarnia of the Ontario Union.

KURYLO OUT

Oak Bay's opening victory over all-star tackle Joe Kurylo for at least two weeks. The one-time Saskatchewan lineman suffered a knee injury in the game against Mayo.

Navy will steam into Friday's game with a full lineup. With some 15 holdovers on hand, Nelson's Navy team appears to be the one that may stop Oak Bay's domination.

Friday's game, which will have the Navy band in attendance, will start at 8 p.m.

Following is the revised schedule:

Sept. 4—Oak Bay vs. Vampires.	Sept. 12—Vampires vs. Navy.
Sept. 13—Vampires vs. Navy.	Sept. 20—Navy vs. Vampires.
Sept. 27—Oak Bay vs. Navy.	Oct. 5—Oak Bay vs. Vampires.
Oct. 12—Vampires vs. Navy.	Oct. 19—Vampires vs. Navy.
Oct. 26—Navy vs. Oak Bay.	Oct. 30—Vampires vs. Oak Bay.
Nov. 2—Play-offs.	Nov. 9—Play-offs.

The selections will be announced in November at the meeting in Winnipeg of the Amateur Athletic Union.

HEADS ISLAND DIVISION

Sinclair Named Game Inspector

Game warden in the Victoria area for nine years, R. W. (Bob) Sinclair has been appointed to the position of inspector of a division of the game branch, department of recreation and conservation.

Inspector Sinclair, whose promotion was announced Tuesday, is the third man to hold the position in the last 13 months. His division covers Vancouver Island and adjacent islands.

One of the city's best-known revolver shots, he started his career with the provincial police in 1939 and served at Victoria, Prince Rupert, Ocean Falls and Sidney before transferring to the game department in June, 1948.

He was posted to the Victoria detachment as George Stevenson moved up to the inspector's position and he has spent all his game department service in this area.

Stevenson retired at the end of July of last year and was succeeded by Frank Kearns, who died after less than three months in his new position.

AUSSIES VS. YANKS

Same Old Feud At Forest Hills

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UP)—It's the United States vs. Australia in three major matches today with Yank veterans Dick Savitt, Vic Seixas and Herb Flam shooting for berths in the quarter-finals of the National Tennis Championships.

Two other Americans—Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Lt. Clifton Mayne of Fort Monmouth, N.J., breezed into the round of eight Tuesday along with top-seeded Ashley Cooper of Australia. But today the ancient tennis feud between the U.S. and Australia breaks out all over.

If the three American veterans come through it will give the U.S. five of the eight slots in the quarter-finals and increase the home forces' chances of regaining the crown won a year ago by Aussie Ken Rosewall.

Seixas drew Roy Emerson, Flam was matched against Bob Howe and Savitt tangled with the toughest of the Aussie three—Mal Anderson, whose current form indicates he'll soon become the No. 2 Australian in place of Neale Fraser.

Two other quarter-finals matched four foreigners—third-seeded Sven Davidson against Bobby Wilson of England and Kurt Nielsen of Denmark against Luis Ayala of Chile.

Wimbledon champion Althea Gibson of New York and second-seeded Louise Brough led five women into the quarter-finals Tuesday and two British girls were favored to move in today.

Fourth-seeded Shirley Bloomer of England met Janet Hopps of Seattle and seventh-seeded Ann Haydon, also of England, was paired against Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif.

In the mixed doubles, Canadians Susan Butt of Victoria and Paul Willey bowed out in a first-round match against the brother-sister team of Mrs. Sachiko Kamo and Kosei Kamo of Japan, 7-5, 4-6, 6-1.

Hendon Wins Labor Day Run in Walk

Paul Hendon of the Vancouver Olympic Club, a recent arrival from England, outran a field of 12 to win the Hocking and Forbes Trophy for the annual Labor Day race at Beacon Hill Park.

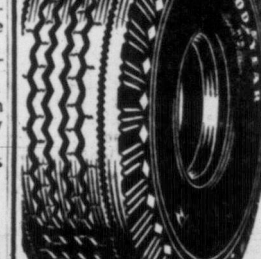

Hendon took over the lead position at the one-mile mark of the nine and one-half mile route and never relinquished it as he covered the distance in 50 minutes two seconds.

Second-place time of 51 minutes 49 seconds was recorded by Ivor Davies, also of VOC, and Jim Moore of Victoria YMCA captured third spot with a 52 minutes 31 seconds clocking.

Other four finishers were Jim Johnston (Navy), 54:17; Vic Stephens (VOC), 54:25; Harry Stephens (Victoria YMCA), 55:00; and Gord Russell (VOC), 58:34.

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

Shooting has been just about as expected since another hunting season rolled around last Saturday.

Average bags of blue grouse throughout Vancouver Island were up about 25 per cent over those recorded during opening weekend last year. Hunters, more widely dispersed than in any recent year, found young birds larger than usual and the blues generally congregated in large coveys and only flushed an occasional single bird.

The big coveys meant that many scattergunners came back with little more than tired legs, while others hit flurries of fast action and had their chances to fill their eight-bird limits in a hurry.

On the whole it appeared to be a satisfactory start for a new season, but reports indicate that an early opening day may not be as great a help to hunters as some contend.

Despite one of the best blue grouse crops in recent years, results were no better than might have been expected with an opening two or three weeks later. Favorable nesting conditions last spring helped to produce heavier-than-average young birds, and only a small percentage of the blues taken were small birds. But in many years, many of the chicks would still have been wobbling on uncertain wings.

Also, a good number of gunners missed chances for additional shots through uncertainty whether or not some of the birds flushed were ruffed (willow) grouse, which are heading toward one of their peak years.

Seasons on All Grouse Could Be Same

It is probable that one of the reasons for having the opening on willows coincide with the pheasant season is because the two species are often found in the same locality. Different opening days might tend to tempt pheasant poachers. Otherwise there seems little reason to start shooting at willows later than blues.

Worth considering for future years might be a two-month grouse season on both blues and willows, starting around the 10th or 15th of September. Bags would probably be as good, there would be no uncertainty and weather would be easier on men and dogs. And there would be a chance that autumn feel in the air that means real hunting weather.

Results over the weekend again proved the advantage of operating with a good dog. This seemed particularly true at Campbell River, where hunters shooting over trained dogs averaged almost twice as many birds as those working without four-footed assistants.

Checks by game officials at Campbell River again pointed out that the area is no longer a major game-producing area. Hunting pressure was only one-fifth that of the peak years of 1953 and 1954 and only 231 hunters were checked Saturday and Sunday. They brought out 388 grouse, an average of 1.6 birds per man, compared with 1.3 on the first two days last year.

Some of the best hunting was found in the Alberni Valley and around Nanaimo. Although 103 hunters checked at Nanaimo had only 104 birds, limits were numerous around North-West Bay, which was not checked. And there were other good areas around Nanaimo, like the spot back of Mount Benson, where Jack Rowbottom picked up an easy-limit Sunday morning.

Some Lower Island Areas Productive

Reports varied from gunners combing the Cowichan section. There were some big coveys and fast shooting for some on Hill 60 and Sugar Loaf Mountain, while others, unable to find birds on the ridges, moved into lower timber and found a fair number of birds and tough shooting in heavy cover.

A check at Parkville showed 46 hunters downed almost 100 grouse Saturday and over 80 were bagged by 20 gunners Sunday morning.

On the lower part of the Island, portions of the Malahat and Highland district provided fair shooting, and the Sooke area, although barren in places, produced a few good bags.

Salt Spring Island produced fair sport, while shooting in the Jordan River and Port Renfrew areas was generally slow. Some of the poorest reports came from shotguns operating around Shawnigan Lake.

Numbered among the most disappointed hunters were those in a party that located some coveys on the Malahat during a scouting trip Friday. They returned to the same area Saturday—and couldn't find a grouse.

Congratulations to Bob Sinclair on his appointment as inspector of Game Management Area No. 1, which includes Vancouver Island and adjacent islands.

CHINESE STAR'S HUNT FOR BACHELOR FIZZLES

VANCOUVER (CP)—The King of Siam's other wife flew back to Hollywood Tuesday without having found an eligible Vancouver bachelor.

"I wish I had more time to look around," sighed actress Maria T'sien, before returning to her TV and movie work after a week's vacation here.

"I'm so busy and it's so hard to meet an eligible man in Hollywood. There just do not seem to be any nice Chinese boys in acting."

Maria, who packs a large part of the beauty of the Orient into her finely chiselled 104 pounds, has played leading roles in 28 television plays and appeared in six movies, including her part as Yui Brynner's No. 2 wife in "The King and I."

(AP)—A Canadian purist, a former big league hockey star, three state governors, a radio and television star, two generals, a former Notre Dame football coach and several of North America's leading businessmen will compete Thursday in a unique hunt reminiscent of the muzzle-loading musket days.

It's the traditional one-shot antelope hunt in which the shooters will get a single bullet to bag one of the fleet-footed pronghorns which roam the foothills along Sweetwater River in central Wyoming.

To the hunters who fell an antelope with their single bullet will go hats on the back and awards at a Shoshone Indian victory dinner Thursday evening. Those who miss must eat with the squaws and help prepare the feast for the sharpshooters.

GETS CLAW NECKLACE
Four-man teams representing Wyoming, Colorado, Alberta and Delaware will compete for team honors. The captain of the winning team will be honored during the Shoshone Indian wolf dance. A string of animal claws will be draped around his neck by the medicine man and the Shoshone will sing him the Indian welcome song.

The medicine man will also tie a single strand of claws around the wrist of each successful hunter, indicating that he has pulled a bow strong and shot a straight arrow—symbolic recognition by the Indians of a mighty hunter.

Captains of the four teams will be Governors Caleb Boggs of Delaware, Milward Simpson of Wyoming and Steve McNichols of Colorado, and Justice M. M. Porter of the Alberta Supreme Court.

Other team members include radio-TV star Arthur Godfrey, Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame football coach, N. A. Red Dutton, former hockey star and once president of the National Hockey League, and Galen Jones and Ward Tennis, Calgary businessmen. Dutton now lives in Calgary.

PHILIP LENDS HAND

Queen Turns 'Chef' To Spice Vacation

LONDON (AP)—A Royal secret is out: Queen Elizabeth does the cooking and Prince Philip washes the dishes at a cottage hideaway in Scotland.

The Sunday Dispatch carries a story revealing what it calls one of the best kept of all Royal secrets.

The Royal family's secret hideaway is eight miles from summer vacation headquarters at Balmoral Castle—a cottage called Glassalt Shiel on the banks of the River Dee.

Every Sunday after morning service at Crathie Church, Philip loads the Queen, Prince Charles and Princess Anne into a car and drives off through the Scottish moors to the cottage.

There, the Queen unloads the lunch basket while Philip hunts up pines and birch logs for the fire.

While the Queen cooks on an old-fashioned range, Philip keeps Charles and Anne out of mischief.

The Queen serves lunch in the cottage dining room, simply furnished with a thin carpet, an old table and six well-used chairs.

There is a comfortable sitting room in the cottage but no bathroom.

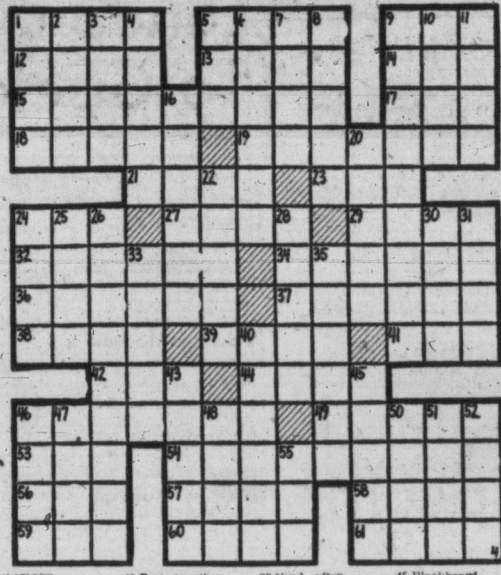

The prince knows the kitchen well. Elected to wash the dishes, he rolls up his sleeves and goes to work.

With lunch over, the Queen and Philip spend the rest of the day reading or playing with the children. Nobody calls. The nearest human habitation is miles away.

The Royal family does not sleep at the cottage. At the end of the day they drive back to Balmoral—and the reality of royalty.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other prizes? Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 30-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Mary Mumm, aged 10, of Wray, Colorado, for her question:

What Is a Bushmaster?
The bushmaster is a snake, the largest and the most dangerous poisonous snake of the New World. He is a tree climbing snake and enjoys life in damp, tropical climates. We find him in the steaming jungles of Central and South America, Costa Rica and Trinidad. Luckily for us, the bushmaster does not find things to his liking in North America. For he is larger, more powerful and more tricky than our deadly rattlesnake, of whom he is a distant relative.

Bad as his character is, the rattler usually gives warning before he strikes. Not so the bushmaster. He will drop from a tree without warning upon a traveler below. There is such a story of a party traveling in the Amazon jungle. Suddenly there was a dull thud. A bushmaster had dropped from a tree. Fortunately he attacked the packcarrier between two men. There he was with his deadly fangs buried deep in a bag of supplies.

The bushmaster soon perishes in captivity, for he usually refuses to eat when he loses his freedom. What's more he lives in difficult terrain where few people choose to go. For these reasons we have not had much opportunity to study his private life. Reports on his size may be exaggerated, for snake skins can be removed and stretched to prove a tall story. It is safe to say that the deadly snake may grow to be eleven feet long, for specimens of that size have been captured.

We know that Mrs. Bushmaster is an egg laying snake. What's more, she may be a good mother, which is unusual in snakes. Her dozen or so round, soft-shelled eggs are laid in a burrow. The burrow is not of her own making but was made by an armadillo or a paca—now extinct. There is evidence that Mrs. Bushmaster may guard her clutch of eggs like a fierce dragon.

The bushmaster belongs to the pit viper group of snakes. Hence he is a relative of our rattler. The pit of the pit viper is a depression in the head, in front and below the eyes. This gives the effect of an extra nose and South Americans often call the bush-master "cuatro narices"—four nostrils. Since snakes are quite deaf, it was thought that this pit might be a hearing organ, enabling this group of vipers to hear. However, this turned out to be untrue.

The pit is a cavity within the head, covered over with a papery stretch of skin. The walls of the cavity contain countless nerve endings. But these nerves are not sensitive to sound. They are acutely sensitive to temperature. This enables the pit viper to detect the range of his prey. He strikes at a warm object because it might be a warm-blooded, living victim. And the bushmaster strikes with the speed of lightning and without warning.

Andy sends a Hammond's Ambassador World Atlas to Patsy Fincher, age 15, of Shreveport, Louisiana, for her question:

Where Does Vanilla Come From?
The delicious flavor of vanilla is taken from the pod of the vanilla plant, a relative of the glamorous orchid. This plant is a native of the New World. The Spanish were the first Europeans to sample the delicate taste when they were given vanilla flavored chocolate by the Aztecs of Central America.

In about 1830, the vanilla plant was taken half way around the world to the island of Madagascar. There it flourished. In fact, it grew so well there that today most of the world supply of vanilla is produced in Madagascar. Vanilla comes also from Mexico, its native home, from Indo China, more recently from Puerto Rico.

Construction Shows Drop In Oak Bay
Though total permits to the end of August in Oak Bay were up slightly compared with last year, construction value was down.

To date this year, 304 permits have been issued for a value of $1,818,446. Last year 273 permits were granted, valued at $1,977,912.

In August this year 10 houses to be constructed were valued at $144,100 bringing value of the 82 to date this year to $1,361,600.

In 1956 for the same period permits for eight houses valued at $111,700 were issued, bringing that year's total to 89 homes for $1,236,300.

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE
AA (Oscar Class) B (Worthwhile) C (To put in time)
A (Don't Miss) B (For Rainy Days)

(OSCAR CLASS) "WILL SUCCESS SPOIL ROCK HUNTER" (Royal)—At first glimpse of George ("The Seven Year Itch") Axelrod's successful Broadway play seems as empty as Rita Marlow's (Jayne Mansfield) dyed head. But by film's end the gilt-edged gingerbread sermon makes a lot of sense—success, after all, is many things to many men but they all add up to one, happiness—without which there can be no success.

Other things also come to mind in retrospect. Along about March don't be surprised if Tony Randall, who plays Rockwell P. Hunter, a Madison Avenue ad merchant whose goal in life is his firm's vice-presidency and a gold key to the executive washroom, is nominated for an Academy Award, and Frank Tashlin as director.

As TV is guilty of doing, "Success" unashamedly and unabashedly advertises up-coming 20th Century-Fox productions. For one brief, hilarious moment, the show is TV. But it is the sly manner in which the picture spoofs the ad agency game, from the drowsy-eyed, reverent glance into the men's room reserved for executives to the awe they hold for the firm's head man, that makes "Success" the vehicle it is.

But through it all it is Randall who shines like a bright light in the night. A graduate of TV ("Mr. Peepers") and one poor film ("Oh, Men! Oh, Women!") in this show at least he is the equal of Tom Ewell, admitted one of the best comedians in the business. In fear of losing his job he tries to get the great actress to endorse a lipstick. In a thrice he becomes "Lover Boy," her fiancé, a man to be mobbed for autographs, to be lionized, to be promoted up and up and up.

Betsy Drake, as the girl he almost loses, and Joan Blondell, as the star's secretary, do wonderfully well by helping make the farcical plot almost believable. Others seen to advantage include John Williams, Henry Jones, Lili Gendle and Mickey Hartigan.

Indeed, not only did Tashlin direct "Success" but he also wrote the adaptation and produced it.

Until this motion picture came along this column had little respect for the histrionic abilities of Miss Mansfield, who, it seemed, was merely a pale carbon copy of Marilyn Monroe. But as the wailing, panting, movie star who clings to Rock Hunter only to make her movie lover jealous and thus drives him to the heights, she is excellent as belittles the young actress who created the role for Broadway.

WHILE preaching its nifty little sermon, "Success" drives home its message in advertising agencies in general and into television in particular. It is both blatant and, at times, vulgar—such as when Miss Marlow is named titular head of the company. But through it all, it is very, very funny. If it hasn't the class and the warmth of another smash comedy success this year, Judy Holliday's "Full of Life" it has its own special brittle brilliance.

Victoria a Real Cure For 'Sneeze-Wheeze'

By NORMAN CHIBBENS
You would think all that could be said about Victoria's tourist attractions had been said long ago.

But, no, there is another. Victoria offers a natural paradise for the millions who suffer from that embarrassing malady known as hay fever... constant sneezing, running of the nose and eyes and in some cases, asthma.

The reason? There is no ragweed pollen in Victoria.

A leading authority for this is Dr. Frederick Christopher of Chicago, a retired surgeon who comes here every summer to escape the pernicious weed.

IN WORST FORMS
The ragweed is widely prevalent in the United States, particularly in the Middle West," Dr. Christopher says. "From Aug. 15 to around Oct. 1, the air is heavily loaded with the wind-borne pollen of the ragweed."

"Many millions of Americans are acutely sensitive, or allergic, to this pollen and at the height of the season they suffer hay fever in all its worst forms."

"Some of us have found relief by being desensitized by a series of ragweed pollen injections... Others flee to Maine or Northern Minnesota. But the ragweed season is too long for most people's vacations."

"That is why I like to spend as much of the ragweed season as possible in Victoria. I obtain complete relief here—and in the happiest possible environment."

Dr. Christopher says the Chicago newspapers publish a daily pollen count with the weather report and this shows the number of granules counted.

U.S. tourists like myself, not only follow the birds to Victoria, they get as far away from the cursed ragweed as they can without jumping into the Pacific.

London 'Familiar Sight' To Gisele On First Visit

LONDON (CP) — When you walk through the streets of London for the first time and you feel you've seen it all before—there must be an explanation.

Gisele MacKenzie, the Canadian television star, thinks the reason is that she's seen too many films and read too many books about London.

"It's quite uncanny," she says. "But I seem to know what's coming next when I go around a corner—and I'm generally right." The Winnipeg-born singer came to Europe for a series of television shows, including one with Jack Benny.

WARM RECEPTION
And she did right well. The critics have praised her performances in glowing phrases, using such terms as "gay, glamorous, a riot, agreeable, a girl with a lovely voice and a great sense of fun."

The News of the World, in a typical comment, said it would like Miss MacKenzie "to stick around much longer," and The Sunday Dispatch said "she came unheralded but she will leave to the applause of millions."

Enjoying the quiet luxury of Claridge's Hotel in Mayfair, taking occasional strolls and rushing to and from TV studios, Miss MacKenzie feels life isn't much different from the one she leads in New York.

"All TV studios look alike and methods of working are pretty much the same." She was flummoxed when she was told she had to write her own scripts or just ad lib.

"In the States the job is taken over by script writers. Anyway, I couldn't stand there with egg on my mouth, so I talked." Personalities absent during her rehearsals are her two long-haired dachshunds, Brunhilde and Wolfgang. "They give me more laughs than anyone," she says. "I hope they aren't pining too much."

'TOO LOVELY' ANTHEM BARRED IN INDONESIA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia has banned one of its most popular love songs because the melody is the same as the national anthem of newly independent Malaya.

A government regulation prohibits the singing or playing of the song Terang Bulan (moonlight) to avoid hurting national feelings of nearby Malaya. The tune is the same as the Malayan anthem, Negaraku (my country).

20,000-Strong UN Police Force Urge of Groups

GENEVA (Reuters)—British and American United Nations groups proposed Tuesday the creation of a permanent United Nations police force as part of a worldwide security system.

Their proposals were presented to the World Federation of United Nations Associations, which convened here Monday for its 12th session.

The British plan called for a permanent force of 20,000 men "with its own bases and transport lightly armed to defend itself against local attack, but not to wage full-scale war."

The United States plan recommended a permanent force of at least 2,000 volunteers on active duty, outfitted in special UN uniforms, and a reserve force composed of additional thousands of trained men, air force units and a permanent commander responsible to the UN secretary-general.

Such a force, the U.S. report said, would prove to be of "inestimable value" in patrolling armistice lines, maintaining order in disputed territories and supervising plebiscites.

Candidate Under Fire From Judge

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Supreme Court judge Tuesday severely criticized a lawyer-candidate in a coming by-election for allowing his political activities to interfere with his legal duties.

Mr. Justice J. V. Cline, told that John E. Milne, Social Credit candidate in Burnaby, would not be able to appear in a trial because of the campaign, remarked sharply:

"The idea that public business such as this is to be disrupted to meet the convenience of lawyers must be dissipated."

Bomber Crashes Into Oil Tank

DANBURY, Tex. (AP)—A B-66 jet bomber from Hurlburt field in Florida crashed into an oil tank near Danbury Tuesday night, setting off a fire visible for miles. The three crew members parachuted before the crash. All three were injured, one critically, when they ejected themselves after the plane developed engine trouble.

ARTY PAIR RID SCENERY OF 5 GARAGES

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—Five garages are missing in nearby Concordville and police blame it on an indignant interior decorator, a happy-go-lucky bulldozer driver and a few beers.

The garages used to be behind the home of Donald Baeshore, 46, the decorator. He thought they were an eyesore.

Police said Baeshore was talking about them over some beers in a bar two weeks ago with a bulldozer operator, Charles Bennett, and that Bennett offered to get rid of the offending garages.

The garages were pushed into a nearby ravine and all but buried beneath five tons of dirt. The biggest clue to their disappearance was the bulldozer tracks.

The tracks led to Bennett, police said, and Bennett led to Baeshore. Both were held in $1,000 bail each for a hearing in malicious mischief charges.

Ottawa Talks This Year Bennett's Aim

Although he's had no encouragement from Ottawa, Premier Bennett is still hopeful there will be a federal-provincial conference this fall.

Immediately after the June 10 election, Mr. Bennett sent a wire to the new Conservative government asking for the meeting to discuss B.C.'s wants.

So far he's had no confirmation, the premier told reporters Tuesday, but he hopes the conference will take place before the new year.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker has indicated he intends to invite the provinces to Ottawa, but with the new Parliament scheduled to open early next month the conference may be put over until spring.

Mr. Bennett said he has also asked Ottawa to settle the downstream benefits issue on the Columbia with the U.S. "with all dispatch."

In the future, Premier Bennett intends to hit the road more often.

Artificial Arm Stolen From Parked Vehicle

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Lyndie Johnson, 35, reported to the county sheriff that someone stole his artificial left arm from his parked automobile Tuesday night. Johnson said the arm, made of fiberglass, is worth $1,200. He has worn it since undergoing amputation after an auto crash three years ago.

Bubbling after his trip on the PGE past Prince George last week, the premier told reporters Tuesday he will make more first-hand inspections of projects throughout the province.

"You can't see what's going on from behind a desk," he said.

Members of the cabinet will also be encouraged to travel more, the premier said.

"In the first years of office we had to work hard on policy," he said. "Now we want to see how our plans are working out."

RUSS WOULD EXCHANGE ARCTIC INFORMATION

TORONTO (BUP)—Russia's expert on Arctic navigation today challenged Canada to a free exchange of information on the Arctic.

"Russia is ready to meet Canada whenever she wants," said Professor E. I. Tolstikov. "We are ready to exchange information on the Arctic and to co-operate in weather forecasting and in other fields."

He predicted a great advance in the field of Arctic navigation when Russia puts into operation her first atom-powered icebreaker, expected to be completed by 1959. The vessel could open up new sealanes because it will not have to refuel, he said.

Tax Evasion Tips Earn No Reward

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Income tax informers are unpaid and their tips are unsolicited but they are highly important assistants to tax collectors, says a lawyer who spent five years on the legal staff of the federal income tax department.

Pat Thorsteinsson of Vancouver, now in private practice, told the junior bar section of the Canadian Bar Association Tuesday:

"Contrary to popular opinion, the department has no paid informers, but you would be amazed at the number of persons who call up with a tip that uncovers tax evasion. These tips are important to the department."

Mr. Thorsteinsson said income tax department employees are "naturally suspicious" because of the 4 per cent of taxpayers who practice various means of deceit and fraud to escape paying taxes. The other 96 per cent of taxpayers are completely honest, he said.

Action will be taken immediately against one firm which has refused to install and a careful check will be L smoke reducing equipment, and a careful check will be made on others.

Mayor Fred Hume said the smoke situation is so bad that "some people in fine new offices can't open the windows for soot and dirt."

Street Wrecking Draws Criticism

Disastrous for Centenary Proudfoot to Tell Council

B.C. Electric and city of Victoria plans to excavate main city streets in the first six months of 1958 was described today as "disastrous" by centennial planner Capt. D. J. Proudfoot.

He feels it will sabotage Greater Victoria Centennial Committee plans for a year-long festival.

BCER's dig-and-bury underground wiring project is slated to start again this month. The program calls for ditching and resurfacing of Douglas and Government and other streets, in the downtown area.

IN FULL SWING

The two main streets are due for excavation during the period when centennial celebrations are expected to be in full swing.

The Macdonald Brier, national curling championships due to be held here in March, tops many events scheduled for the spring and early summer.

"It will be disastrous to have the roads pulled up at that time," Capt. Proudfoot said. "... especially May and June," he added.

He said he will ask the committee to approach the city and the BCER to attempt an earlier finish for the project than is now anticipated.

It was learned the overall cost of the project now likely will surpass $3,000,000. Time for completion is stretching toward five years.

When the project was started last fall, cost was set at $2,250,000 and estimated length of the project was four years. Now it is expected poles will not be removed until 1960.

City engineer J. C. Garnett said he hopes the project will start Sept. 16, Herald, Fisgard and Cormorant Streets, between Douglas and Government, will be first to be excavated for installation of conduit.

Complete area to have lighting wires transferred underground is bounded by Belleville, Blanshard, Herald and Government, a 30-block area. Less than half the area was completed last winter and balance of underground installation of ducts and conduit is planned for the approaching work season. Cost of this winter's project will be about $900,000.

Offer to Employees By Empress Hotel Said 'Not Official'

Some 450 employees of the Empress Hotel and Crystal Garden met tonight to hear an explanation of the confused picture in their wage dispute.

A government-supervised strike vote will be held Friday between 7:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, it was learned management has sent a letter to each union member repeating a previous offer of a 9 per cent wage increase, in three stages.

NOT OFFICIAL

However, a union official today said no offer has been made officially by the company since it rejected a majority conciliation report.

The majority report recommended 3 per cent wage increases on June 1, 1957, Jan. 1 and June 1 of next year.

In addition a health and welfare plan and adjustments in rates of pay for certain jobs was recommended. Amount of adjustments was to equal 1 1/2 per cent of the total annual payroll, equivalent to $15,000.

The management letter meets the majority report recommendations except for specific rate of adjustments. It says adjustments will be made but does not outline to what extent.

EXPLANATION

"We have to explain the current situation before the strike vote is taken by our members," said shop steward Jim Greely of Local 276, Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers.

"Management is now claiming that it is offering to meet the conciliation board recommendations but, in fact, it has not made any contact with the bargaining committee since it rejected the majority report."

"They haven't uttered one word or written one line to the committee since the report was made. There is nothing in their letter to say whether they will set aside the recommended amount for adjustments."

"So technically speaking management has made no settlement offer and we had no alternative but to ask for the strike vote. Once a conciliation report is rejected, you have to start from scratch again."

Mr. Greely said a statement in the letter that management was prepared to continue negotiations on the basis of its offer was designed "to fool the members."

"They may be prepared to continue negotiations but why haven't they said so to the bargaining committee?" he asked.

Present pay ranges from a 65-cent-an-hour minimum for bellboys to between 75 and 85 cents for clerks.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—"I would like to know if there is a numismatic society in this city; if so, where does it meet?"—B.J.

A.—The Victoria Numismatic Society meets every second Friday at the Art Gallery, Moss Street, at 8 p.m. Next meeting will be Friday, Sept. 13. The president is Allan "Al" Kienman. "Numismatic," by the way, means relating to coins.

Q.—What is a nunnery?—J.L.

A.—It's a place of residence for nuns, but the term is not generally recognized. Nuns live in convents, or monasteries, depending on the order. We believe the term "nunnery" originated during the reformation period in England.

WILLOWS BEACH IMPROVEMENT WORK AT HALFWAY MARK

While the five blocks along Willows Beach looks pretty rugged now, by mid-October there will be plenty of space for persons to park, or pace and peer. By the middle of October the development of the seafront along the Willows is expected to be completed; cost will be about $46,000, $12,000 of which goes for concrete work alone. The project has been authorized by the Capital Improvement District Commission, a government agency. Work started two months ago.—(Times photo)

MONTE ROBERTS

Citizens of Manitoba have taken umbrage at a few remarks made in this space about the city of Winnipeg.

These remarks were intended in the kindest possible spirit, but the citizens of Manitoba (after taking vast quantities of umbrage) are willing away the long summer nights writing vituperation and abuse to the Winnipeg Tribune.

Following is a milder example of the purple prose directed my way:

Dear Editor: I'd like to get my hands on that Monte Roberts for a moment, I'd shake some sense into him. I'd like him to know that the and a lot of other west coast boosters like him just about wrecked my marriage.

It all started on our honeymoon. After reading all that "garbage" about magnificent west coast weather, my fiancé and I decided to travel from Winnipeg. It was a beautiful train ride until we reached Vancouver and it started to rain. It didn't stop raining for a week so we listened to the advice of the west coast wise ops—it may be raining in Vancouver but it will be fine in Victoria—and took the ferry across to the Island.

You guessed it—it was raining when we reached Victoria and it was still raining when we left three days later. And it was raining when we left Vancouver by train the following day.

The result was my husband and I were in a terrible mood on our honeymoon, just when it should have been the opposite. And it was all caused by big-mouths like Mr. Roberts who enticed us into going to the west coast.

"PRAIRIE BOOSTER."

Well, naturally, I am cut to the quick. And the automatic reaction of any columnist when cut to the quick is to counter with a snide remark.

But I will resist this temptation and, instead, extend my deepest sympathies for a honeymoon called on account of rain.

However, there is one question I'd like to ask of "Prairie Booster."

Who told you it was raining?

Mr. Chant said the work will be let in two stages to speed up the project.

Traffic Death Ruled Accident

Accidental death was the verdict returned today at a coroner's inquiry into the traffic death early Sunday of George Sears, 79, of 332 Douglas.

Driver of the car which was in collision with Mr. Sears on Douglas, opposite the Stratford Hotel, Keith Clayton Bottoms, RCAF Station, Comox, said, "I felt a thump against the car's right side and saw something go by the side window."

That was the first time he saw the pedestrian, who apparently had stepped from between parked cars to cross the street, he said.

"As soon as I felt the bump, I stopped the car."

The accident occurred at 12:10 a.m. Const. Barrie English, city police, told the jury.

RIGHT FENDER

He stated the body had hit the top right front fender of the car and had come to rest 19 feet from their east curb on Douglas and 75 feet from the nearest pedestrian crossing.

Mr. Sears had been wearing medium grey clothing and the street was well-lighted at the time, the constable said.

Passenger in the car driven by Mr. Bottoms, Walter Criba, Comox RCAF, said he first noticed Mr. Sears when "I felt a thump and looked around just in time to see the body twist around the left bumper and collapse on the street."

Mr. Sears died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 2:20 a.m. Sunday of multiple fractures and hemorrhaging of the pelvis, assistant pathologist Douglas Asp said.

The deceased was the grand-

Cash Taken In Burglary Of Pharmacy

Between $250 and $300 cash was taken by thieves who removed a four by four feet plate-glass window and neatly replaced the glass after their overnight entry of Totem Pharmacy, 2577 Cadboro Bay.

Investigation by Oak Bay police disclosed wooden moulding had been carefully taken from around the window, the glass removed, entry made and the store rifled for money.

Before leaving by a rear door, the window was put back in and the moulding replaced.

Druggist Jim Hardy did not notice a break-in had occurred until he walked into his dispensary this morning and found it littered with papers.

There was no apparent effort made to steal narcotics nor merchandise from the shop.

Store had been locked up about 10 p.m. Tuesday and was later checked by police, who found nothing suspicious.

REGALIA ADDS 'WEIGHT' TO OFFICE

History was made today at city hall when Mayor Percy Scourrah became first Victoria chief magistrate to wear an official chain of office. Council authorized $400 for the chain which will add to dignity of Victoria mayors in perpetuity.—(Times photo)

Tot Saved by Father From Bedroom Fire

A father's heroism in saving his 1 1/2-year-old son from suffocation in a bedroom fire Monday night came to light today.

Panicked cries of Christopher Denvers brought his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ian C. Denvers, 4450 Tyndall, running to the closed bedroom where the baby had been put to bed in a crib.

A larger bed was afire and the room filled with smoke when Mr. Denvers entered the room to snatch the boy to safety.

Saanich fire department was called and a neighbor helped Mr. Denvers toss the blazing bed out a window.

Firemen extinguished a burning wall and the smouldering bed and baby Christopher and his father were taken to hospital.

The child had nearly been overcome by smoke and his father suffered mild burns to the hands.

"Another five minutes and the baby would have had it," said assistant fire chief Tom Moss.

Damage to premises was estimated at a total of $650. Cause of the fire was attributed to an over-heated lamp shade by the big bed.

Vic High Graduate Awarded Lillian McNiven Scholarship

Lillian McNiven memorial scholarship of $2,000 has been awarded by Chapter N, PEO

Sisterhood, to Peggy Standen, 18, of 1028 Finlayson.

The scholarship, awarded this year for the first time, is for a student entering the course leading to a degree in nursing.

Miss Standen, a graduate of Victoria High School, will enter Victoria College this month.

It will be awarded at the rate of $400 annually for five years.

Margaret Nelson, 1879 Forster, a graduate of Mt. View High School, received the Lillian McNiven memorial bursary of $400. She will attend Victoria College this year and plans to major in nursing.

Both scholarships are given through the PEO Sisterhood in memory of Mrs. Lillian McNiven, late wife of Dr. E. L. McNiven.

Arson Charge Laid Against Saanich Man

A Saanich man faces an arson charge in police court Thursday in connection with a $1,500 fire in his practically-new home on Robinwood Drive.

Free on $5,000 bail after he was charged Tuesday is Emerson Eugene Michael, builder and occupant of the house damaged by fire Sunday.

Saanich fire department said fire damage is about $150, the rest caused by smoke. Michael entered no plea Tuesday.

Jewel-Studded Nail File Looks Pretty in Purse

By PENNY SAVER

What next! Beauty necessities for milady's handbag are getting to be so pretty that she won't mind in the least if a search for some elusive item means she has to dump the contents out—it will be a chance to show off her jewelled lipstick and compact and now, even her nail file!

I found gilt nail-files that are as pretty as they are practical. The handles are heavily set with tiny pearls and large colored stones. Imported from Europe and in their own box, they would make a nice gift or pamper-yourself item at just $1.

There are also jewel-studded bottle openers at the same price, but since they aren't a thing a girl usually carries in her handbag, I don't quite see the use of them.

FOR DINNER TABLE

Really good salt and pepper shakers for the dinner table are something every bride needs. A set of two salts and two peppers comes neatly boxed at $4.40.

They are made of crystal with tops of sterling silver and mother-of-pearl, and would make a worthwhile gift.

Forty-Six Years of Service

Members of the traffic department of the B.C. Telephone Company entertained last Saturday at the tea hour in honor of Miss Maud Burley on the eve of her retirement.

Receiving guests were Misses Ella Walker, Kathleen Johnson, Ivy Bradley, Daisy Grossmith, Kathleen Goodall, Dorothy Cusance, Emily Warburton and Mrs. M. Young.

Presiding at the tea table were Miss Grossmith, Miss Bradley, Miss Cusance, Mrs. Young, Mrs. G. Hall and Miss Warburton. Serviteurs were Mrs. Helen Reece, Mrs. Jean Scott, Mrs. Edna Ball, Mrs. Beth Dickie, Mrs. Margaret Warden, Mrs. Phyllis Bradshaw, Misses Jean Lang, Marion Mitchell, Helen Rawling, Margaret Warden and Mrs. Peggy Nash.

Floral arrangements in the room and on the tea table were in charge of Mrs. Goodall, assisted by Mrs. Kathleen Cheetham and Mrs. Helen Karas.

A presentation of a well-filled blue leather purse from members of the traffic, plant and employers' departments was made to Miss Burley by Miss Ella Walker. A corsage of pink rosebuds was given to the honor guest by Miss Johnson. Members of the ex-telephone girls' club presented her with a planter made of an old-time telephone.

Miss Burley was born in Victoria. She joined the company as relief operator in June, 1911, when the plant was in the old Bank of Montreal building on Government Street. The next year she moved with the traffic department to the building on Blanshard Street.

She served as night operator for a number of years and in January, 1928, was named assistant chief operator. Six months later, in July of that year, she became local chief operator, and in October, 1941, took the position of local and tolls chief operator.

During the 46 years she has been with the telephone company, Miss Burley has had many interesting, some sad, and some comic experiences. She remembers well the "big snow" of 1916 when the telephone operators could not get home and had to stay in the Dominion Hotel. She served through two world wars and has memories of emergencies that include fires, floods and even riots. She is a charter member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, Chapter 53.

She has a number of hobbies that will keep her busy in retirement. These include music, gardening and "good brisk walks" during which her keen eyes and her active mind store up the interesting things she sees and hears.

In Honor of the Bride

Miss Bernice Floss, bride-elect of early September, was guest of honor at a surprise shower given by Mrs. Alfred Eburn and Miss Mary Lou Lyle at the former's home. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage of salmon-pink gladioli and red roses and her mother a corsage of pink carnations and heather. Guests included Mrs. G. Floss, Mrs. G. R. Easter, Mrs. A. Floss, Mrs. M. W. Lyle, Mrs. N. Finley, Mrs. A. Davidson, Mrs. R. Kroger, Mrs. S. Cameron, Mrs. F. E. Worthy, Mrs. E. D. Park, Mrs. H. Elliott, Mrs. J. B. G. Nicolson, Mrs. J. Pearce, Mrs. E. Perry, Misses Jessie Nicolson, Dorothy Hay, Ellen Stroud, Joyce Letcher, Martha Worthy, Marjorie Park, Marion Elliott, Sue Anderson and Jeannette Smith.

Mrs. G. J. Sullivan entertained recently at a shower for September bride-elect Miss Patricia Sullivan. Gifts were presented in a decorated confettis surmounted by a miniature bridal doll. Corsages were presented to Miss Sullivan, Mrs. B. Sullivan and Mrs. J. Sullivan, her mother and grandmother. Mrs. W. J. Sullivan and Mrs. G. Hill poured tea at a table centred with a bridal doll and white flowers. Serviteurs were Mrs. J. Eden, Mrs. P. Jeffrey, Miss Linda O'Connor and Miss Ellen Hill. Other guests were Mrs. J. Allan, Mrs. G. Allan, Mrs. M. O'Toole, Mrs. J. O'Connor, Mrs. J. Hamilton, Mrs. Y. Mitchell, Mrs. D. Lake, Mrs. J. Beaubien, Mrs. E. Crawford, Mrs. W. R. Roskelley, Mrs. W. E. Roskelley, Miss M. Dixon and Miss B. Lake.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Evening Beauty and Health Routine for Business Girls

This week I have already called your attention to the importance of exercise and being outdoors, and good nutrition to business girls and women. Lack of these are her three great hazards. She should work as much exercise and activity into her daily life as possible. She can have splendid nutrition but she is almost certain to be malnourished unless she gives thought to the question.

Once she plans for exercise and some outdoor life and adequate nutrition, she probably will be more relaxed and thus a fourth hurdle will be vaulted. I have indicated that it seems evident that arising a half hour earlier in the morning would be beneficial since it gives 10 minutes for exercise and time for a leisurely and adequate breakfast.

When we consider the professional woman's beauty and health routine in the evening, many factors enter into the picture. Great benefits will be derived by taking at least 10 minutes for exercise and then a lazy tub before your evening meal. This is most relaxing and gives one a new outlook for the evening. Tension and hurry drop away.

However, some women prefer to wait until just before retiring. Whatever time you choose, be sure to allow at least 10 minutes for exercise and also time for a relaxing tub. You can lubricate your face and neck while you soak. Then you can use one of the hormone oils or at least an eye cream just before going to sleep.

It is wise to save one night a week for special grooming problems such as the removal of superfluous hair, a manicure and shampoo (if you do that yourself) and looking over clothes to see what needs cleaning or mending or pressing.

The working woman's time is at such a premium that it may be good economy to have her hair and nails done once a week at a beauty salon. This also would permit a few hours of relaxation and luxury.

If you live in a medium or large city, you will find the personal shopping service at stores a boon. You can do much of your shopping by telephone or by mail. Charge accounts are helpful in this way. For instance, if you find a certain type brassiere you like and have had it fitted so that you know what size you re-

Heather Hewett Is Bride At Cadboro Bay Church

Red and white gladioli decorated the altar of St. George the Martyr Church in Cadboro Bay for the marriage Saturday afternoon of Heather Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. C. Hewett, Falkland Road, and Robin Christopher Stanley Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clark, Kings Road. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. William Hills. P. H. Hughes played organ music. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ivory satin with an over skirt of nylon net. The gown featured a lace bodice, tapering lily point sleeves, a boat neckline, and her chapel-length net veil was held by a pleated nylon net halo headpiece. The bride wore pearl jewelry and carried a spray bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Miss June Harrison was maid of honor in a waltz-length gown of Nile green chiffon featuring a shirred bodice and floating panel. She carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and yellow flowers. Miss Carol Savage was bridesmaid in a dress of champagne and brown chiffon with a champagne feather bandeau and a matching bouquet of flowers.

Larry Duncan was best man and Barry Hewett and Jack Rait ushered guests to pews marked with white bells, ribbon and net.

Oak Bay Beach Hotel was scene of a reception afterwards where the young couple cut a three-tier wedding cake. James L. Ruxton proposed a toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon to Seattle and Wenatchee Valley, the new Mrs. Clark donned a mauve silk princess style print frock with black accessories, a champagne coat and mauve orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark will live at Oakview Apartments, Christie Way.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

DIVORCE SHOULDN'T CHANGE YOUR NAME:

When I was divorced twenty-six years ago, I legally restored my maiden name, primarily for business reasons, although I had a daughter. It was when my daughter married three years ago that I realized my mistake in changing the name, for I had to face the embarrassment of issuing announcements that "Mrs. Jean Williams announces the marriage of her daughter Jean Harrison." Now my former husband and I are to be remarried and I am in a quandary about issuing our own announcements.

Do you recommend it under the circumstances, and, if so, how should they be worded? We both have many friends and relatives in many parts of the country who wouldn't otherwise be informed.

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

You have three alternatives: to issue the conventional engraved announcements; to write short personal notes; to do nothing at all, hoping that the grapevine would get the word around eventually. I recommend the formal announcement. Doing nothing would be silly. Writing notes would be awkward, time consuming and unnecessary. Probably most people you wish to inform already knew your maiden name and your husband's name. Those friends whom you both have met over the years since the divorce, would just be informed that Mrs. Williams and Mr. McIntyre were married, and it shouldn't matter whether or not they know that this was a remarriage. Therefore, your announcement should read: "Mrs. Jean Williams and Mr. Douglas Alexander McIntyre announce their marriage on Saturday, October the twenty-sixth, nineteen hundred and fifty-seven, Denver, Colorado." Either in the lower left hand corner or on small enclosed cards would be your future address, such as, "at home after the first of December (next line) 405 Ocean View Drive, Santa Barbara, California."

FROM TORONTO FOR WEDDING HERE

Mr. Richard Pollard, his fiancée, Miss Merlene Brennan, left, and Miss Pamela Redfern, all came by air from Toronto on the weekend and are staying with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Pollard at their home on Fairfield Road. Mr. Pollard and Miss Brennan are to be married this Saturday at 3:15 p.m. in St. John's Church. The groom-elect's great-uncle, Canon Hubert St. J. Payne will conduct the ceremony assisted by Canon Biddle. Miss Brennan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Brennan of Perth, Australia. Miss Redfern, who lives in Welling, Kent, Eng., is to be the bride's attendant. The three young people came from England in June and since then have been visiting in the east.

Recent Bride Nan Dallin Wears Gown of Imported Lace, Net

A floor-length gown of imported lace and nylon net was worn by a Saturday evening bride at her wedding in G.H. Presbyterian Church, Rev. T. H. McAllister officiating.

Agnes May (Nan) Dallin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Dallin, Lincoln Road, was given in marriage by her father to John Frederick Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill, Royal Oak.

The bride's gown featured lily point sleeves, a bouffant skirt and net yoke trimmed with seed pearls. Her headpiece of orange blossoms held a floor-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of cascading yellow roses and white feathered carnations.

Soloist E. S. Bray sang "Because" during the ceremony. Miss Julie Ann Beecroft was maid of honor in a princess style dress of green satin brocade, while bridesmaids Misses Frances and Jeanne Dallin, sisters of the bride, wore copper-toned gowns of the same satin brocade. Miss Catherine Wilson was flower girl in a frock of green nylon over satin. She carried a basket of yellow carnations.

David Robson was best man, while Gerald Sutcliffe and Frank Wilson ushered. Vernon Dallin, uncle of the bride from Saskatoon, Sask., proposed a toast to her happiness at a reception in the Golden Slipper, where the young couple cut a three-tier cake.

The bride donned a light blue suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses for her travelling costume. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will honeymoon in the United States and Interior of British Columbia. They plan to live at Royal Oak.

St. Luke's Parish Guild, Friday, 8 p.m., parish hall.

Pastel Color Scheme For Flowers, Gowns

A color scheme of white, peach and turquoise was carried out in flowers and gowns at the wedding Saturday evening of Patricia Anne Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Russell, 3054 Carrol Street, and Leroy Conrad Fevang, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Fevang, 1070 San Marino Crescent. Peach and white gladioli decorated St. Mark's Church for the ceremony conducted by Canon R. Willis. Turquoise satin bows marked the guest pews.

Mrs. E. Coles sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, was lovely in a gown styled with bodice of French lace over net and cream satin with wide V neckline, with lace medallions on the dropped waistline and the train-length skirt of filmy tulle over net and satin, and repeated on fingertip veil held by a starched lace and pearl tiara. She carried a gardenia with turquoise streamers, on a prayer book.

Miss Lianne Butler, maid of honor, and Mrs. Michael Price, bridesmaid, wore ballerina-length princess-style gowns of turquoise satin brocade with matching tiaras. They carried cascades of peach and white gladioli with turquoise streamers.

Flower girl Legia Gibson wore turquoise net over taffeta and carried a peach basket of white flowers.

Ron Fevang was his brother's

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY Mrs. Helen Gordon (MOTHER OF 11)
I have always thought that one of the "basics" of baby care was to realize that while schedules are necessary... they are workable only when they're reasonable. Certainly children do thrive on a certain amount of routine but modern parents avoid letting rules become more important than baby's real inner needs. A flexible baby-care schedule which makes room for love helps make a whole baby... physically and spiritually.

Sparkly teeth making their debut? Now's the time to let baby have a try at semi-grown-up foods. Like Gerber Junior Foods, which have a tender, evenly minced texture that's just right for tots who are trying to chew. Add to this, inviting true-to-nature flavors and appetizing colors and you have the makings of many a happy mealtime. Variety galore—over 30 fruits, vegetables, soups, meats and desserts.

Conversation piece. Baby taking a stab at talking? You can help by speaking slowly, enunciating clearly, repeating often. When giving commands it's helpful to use the same words each time to avoid confusion. Pointing to objects, colors, shapes, etc., helps teach word meanings.

How a baby food is born. I think it's interesting to note that new Gerber Products just don't happen overnight! They're the result of months of laboratory research and consumer testing. In the case of Gerber Teething Biscuits, for example, during 18 months, 97 different formulas were tried before the biscuits actually came into being. Then, after testing the biscuits with 1,000 mothers and babies, they went to market. Just another example of how Gerber works to bring your baby quality products, Gerber Baby Foods, Niagara Falls, Canada.

B.C. Factory Hit by Blast; One Injured

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three explosions and a fire extensively damaged a chemical plant of the Electric Reduction Company of Canada in North Vancouver today.

Workman Vince Jennings, 23, was taken to hospital suffering from burns and shock. He was reported in good condition. Three other men escaped unhurt.

The explosions stripped the two-storey, steel-framed building of its inch-thick asbestos-board sides.

The $5,000,000 plant, opened last April, makes sodium chlorate, a chemical used for bleaching woodpulp.

A company officer said sodium chlorate normally isn't explosive and he had never heard of an explosion in similar plants.

Fire Chief Al Keller said the crews of two engines were able to extinguish the flames.

50 Ships, 50 Planes Take Part In Giant Halifax Navy Review

HALIFAX (BUP)—Halifax harbor was the scene today of one of the most spectacular reviews ever held by the Royal Canadian Navy.

Some 25 ships of the navy's Atlantic fleet, 25 auxiliary boats, and 50 navy and air force planes took part in an impressive salute to Rear Admiral R. E. S. Bidwell, retiring flag officer Atlantic coast.

Bidwell, who retires Sept. 20, took the salute from the flight deck of the navy's newest aircraft carrier HMCS Bonaventure.

The escort destroyer St. Laurent which led the line of ships fired a 13-gun salute to the admiral's flag on behalf of the fleet.

Neptune aircraft from the Royal Canadian air force's 405 squadron at Greenwood, N.S., and Lancaster's from the operational training unit at Summerside, P.E.I., joined in a fly-past with navy Banshee jets, Avenger trackers, Expeditors and helicopters from the naval air station near here.

The 50 ships met in the Bedford basin at the head of Halifax harbor and proceeded southward through the narrows.

Bidwell, from Halifax, has been flag officer Atlantic coast since November, 1951. He will be succeeded by Rear Admiral H. F. Pullen of Rothesay, New Brunswick, who was formerly flag officer Pacific coast.

Eight of the destroyers and two submarines which took part in the ceremony steamed out of the harbor as they passed the Bonaventure, and headed for the mid-North Atlantic.

The RCN destroyers and two Royal Navy submarines will participate in exercise "Seaspray," a series of big NATO naval manoeuvres.

LABOR DRAFTS WCB PROTEST

VANCOUVER (CP)—A protest brief on workmen's compensation will be presented to cabinet by the Vancouver Labor council Sept. 17.

The council decided on the move Tuesday night against what it called a "too legalistic approach" by the provincial Workmen's Compensation Board.

Council members said hundreds of people who should get compensation have been unable to do so.

Representatives of the B.C. Federation of Labor and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will join the council in its protest.

Mr. Leslie made the remarks in his presidential address.

NOT UNPOPULAR

Mr. Leslie said he does not believe lawyers or the legal profession are unpopular with the public.

"If it indeed were true that lawyers are regarded with suspicion and distrust, it would be a far greater tragedy for the lay public than it would be for the lawyers," he said.

Any tendency to disparage lawyers tends also to bring the law itself into disrepute and that would be tragedy indeed.

He said the lawyer's first duty is to attend to the interests of his client with competence, honesty and at reasonable cost. If any appreciable number failed in this duty, no amount of advertising or propaganda could stem the tide of public disapproval.

Andrews has a highly individual style. Some feel his work shows the influence of the Tachist school, in which a transient effect is conveyed.

It is the first London show for the 35-year-old Canadian painter, who studied in Winnipeg under the late Lionel LeMoine Fitz-Gerald. Fitz-Gerald was a member of the Canadian "Group of Seven."

The exhibition includes "standing figure," which has already been purchased for the National Gallery of Canada. The publication, Art News and Review, says of this painting: "Light travels through the golden figure as carefree as the young Andrews chasing light beams across the open prairies."

Skyscraper to Make New Yorkers See Red

NEW YORK (AP)—Every man has had, at one time or another, a weekend ambition "to paint the town red."

Nobody but Louis J. Glickman, however, has seriously set out to erect a vermillion-colored skyscraper in the heart of Manhattan.

His proposal to tear down historic Carnegie Hall, which he bought for $5,000,000 and replace it with a bright-red, 44-storey, $24,000,000 office building has caught the public fancy.

People want to know who Glickman is, and why he wants to put up a tower that will look like an oversized bloody Mary.

"Oh, I just happened to be wearing a red tie the day I closed the deal," Glickman jokes casually when asked this question. Then, getting serious, he explains:

"Color is getting to play such an important part in our lives, in everything from refrigerators to automobiles, that I thought a vermillion building would relieve some of the drabness of Manhattan—and give the town a shot in the arm."

The venture is typical of Glickman, one of the leading real estate syndicate operators, wasn't born with a silver spoon in his mouth—it was a property deed. Shortly after graduating from college he became a partner of his father, Pinus Glickman, a builder.

REAL ESTATE EMPIRE Since the end of the war Glickman, rivalled perhaps only by William Zeckendorf in the size of his real estate operations, has closed deals totalling more than $600,000,000. His firm owns properties valued at more than $200,000,000 in 19 cities.

He recently acquired a number of properties in Canada, including two large office buildings in Toronto—the Northern Ontario Building on Bay Street and the Knight Building on Adelaide Street West.

"He goes around the country buying buildings like bunches of bananas," one real estate editor wrote of him.

Glickman, now 52, will even close a deal while playing golf or riding horseback; his favorite sports. He is known in the trade as a "romancer," a man who can take a piece of rundown property and improve it so that it will return more revenue.

"To be successful in real estate you have to be optimistic—a bull," said Glickman who is as self-confident as an elephant in a flea circus.

Art Showing By Canadian Lauded in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—An exhibition of 17 oil paintings and 26 water colors by Stephen Andrews of Saskatoon and Winnipeg opened today at the Hanover Gallery.

It is the first London show for the 35-year-old Canadian painter, who studied in Winnipeg under the late Lionel LeMoine Fitz-Gerald. Fitz-Gerald was a member of the Canadian "Group of Seven."

The exhibition includes "standing figure," which has already been purchased for the National Gallery of Canada. The publication, Art News and Review, says of this painting: "Light travels through the golden figure as carefree as the young Andrews chasing light beams across the open prairies."

Andrews has a highly individual style. Some feel his work shows the influence of the Tachist school, in which a transient effect is conveyed.

He said lawyers should take a more active interest in the work of law schools to ensure competent work by the individual lawyer is the most effective means of establishing good public relations for the legal profession, the president of the Canadian Bar Association said today.

E. C. Leslie of Regina said, however, there are other tasks that must be done by the corporate bar if the public relations are to remain on a firm basis.

Among these were a careful screening of those admitted to the profession; a greater interest in legal education; and a constant vigilance to see that laws are kept up to date.

Mr. Leslie made the remarks in his presidential address.

Mr. Leslie said he does not believe lawyers or the legal profession are unpopular with the public.

"If it indeed were true that lawyers are regarded with suspicion and distrust, it would be a far greater tragedy for the lay public than it would be for the lawyers," he said.

Any tendency to disparage lawyers tends also to bring the law itself into disrepute and that would be tragedy indeed.

He said the lawyer's first duty is to attend to the interests of his client with competence, honesty and at reasonable cost. If any appreciable number failed in this duty, no amount of advertising or propaganda could stem the tide of public disapproval.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Some activity in oats and flax markets moderately active trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Buying of oats was attributed to American interests and domestic shippers. Offerings were in line with demand and prices moved in a narrow range.

Barley trading was mainly domestic and prices fluctuated narrowly.

Flax trading produced orders from American and international interests. Offerings and prices were firm to higher with some irregularities.

Thin Trading Seen
On Toronto Exchange

The Toronto stock market was mixed to narrowly lower today during thin trading.

Western oils remained weak with Calgary and Edmonton easing 1/2 at 31 among the higher-priced issues. Fargo Oils climbed 55 cents to $7.90.

Prices at New York were pared a bit today as trading fell away to about the lowest level of the year. Oils retreated from their gains of Tuesday. Shamrock Oil, despite a 3 for 2 stock split proposal, showed slight change. Royal Dutch, Shell Transport and Trading, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Gulf Oil were lower.

AT TORONTO Canada Packers B led the industrials with a 1/4 gain at 35 1/2. Traders Finance and Argus Corp. showed 3/4 point gains. Other gains were fractional. Great Lakes Papers led the losers.

AT MONTREAL the stock market lost some early gains and stood at a narrowly mixed level in moderate trading today.

AT LONDON the stock market was firmer today but seasonal holiday influences continued to restrict business.

Gilt-edged securities opened lower and attracted small buyers so that small gains predominated later.

Oils were higher in sympathy with the good quarterly report of the Royal Dutch Shell group.

Among foreigners, there was a modest demand for German bonds. Dollar stocks were higher.

AT VANCOUVER a dull market saw prices unchanged. Trojan sold 5,700 at 27. Vantor moved 3,800 at $17.1. Canam Copper traded 2,000 at 15.

OTAWA (BUP)—A bilateral agreement for the shipment of large quantities of Canadian uranium to Japan is now being drafted by Canadian government trade officials and will shortly be presented to the cabinet, it was revealed today.

Toru Hagiwara, Japan's ambassador to Canada, said that negotiations on the agreement started while the Liberals were still in power.

"I understand that a draft of the agreement will soon be completed, and we are waiting now for it to be presented to the Conservative cabinet," Hagiwara said.

"The Japanese government will enter into direct negotiations with the Canadian government after the draft agreement is considered by the cabinet."

Hagiwara pointed out that Japan is conducting extensive experiments with two experimental nuclear reactors that were imported from the United States. He said his country's nuclear power program would be ready to go into operation within the next three years.

"However, Japan needs a guaranteed supply of uranium before it can embark on an extensive nuclear power program and we are looking to Canada for the bulk of our uranium needs," Hagiwara said.

"That is why we are pressing for direct negotiations with the Canadian government at the earliest possible date."

Hagiwara added that Japan had applied to the world bank for credit to buy uranium but did not foresee any problems in getting the credit.

'WHAT I SAID' WAS ...

Premier Bennett explained Tuesday he had never predicted that Social Credit would sweep all 22 B.C. seats in the federal election last June.

(The Secrets got six). "What I said," Mr. Bennett told reporters, "was that if the people understood the issues and what Social Credit is all about, then we would take all the seats."

The premier made the explanation in declining to predict the outcome of the three provincial by-elections next Monday.

Police Break Up Demonstrations By Bands of Mainland Youths

VANCOUVER—Lower Mainland police were called on Tuesday to break up two demonstrations of youngsters.

In North Vancouver RCMP called in parents to help break up a gang of youths causing trouble. Some 20 youths were rounded up by police in three squad cars after complaints were received they were fighting and bothering a woman clerk in a grocery store.

The boys, ranging in age from 16 to 18, were herded together on the street, while police awaited arrival of their parents.
A garage attendant said some of the boys were armed with sections of car chains.

A misunderstanding between a disc jockey and teenagers sponsoring a rock 'n' roll dance caused a near riot.

The youngsters had arranged a charity dance and asked Bob (Red) Robinson to act as master of ceremonies. When he didn't show up 1,000 girls and boys gathered for the outdoor affair started a noisy protest. Police broke up the demonstration and gave tickets to a number of youths for traffic offences.

Disc-jockey Robinson said he made "no promises to the sponsors" of the dance.

purposes and that there was no danger.

DRIVER REMANDED

NELSON—Richard Gregory, of Ymir, was remanded Tuesday to September 11 when he appeared on a charge of manslaughter arising out of the traffic death of William Francis Clark, of Salmo,
August 24.

Clark was struck by a vehicle as he was crossing the highway near Ymir.

CHAIRMAN NAMED

KITIMAT—Vancouver lawyer
Reg Moir has been named chairman of a conciliation board to hear a wage dispute between United Steelworkers and the Aluminum Company of Canada here.

The hearing starts September

a judge had taken such action.
After the jury handed down its verdict at the trial, Mr.
Justice Manson said: "If this man is not guilty, I don't know what guilty is."

Mr. Justice Manson told the court it was only the third time in 21 years on the bench he had disagreed with a jury.

The demand for an apology was made in a letter to Chief Justice Sherwood Lett of the British Columbia Supreme Court. He said it was dated June 24 and carried the typewritten signature of Harry Gehring, foreman of the jury.

Chief Justice Lett said Tuesday the letter was "acknowledged in the regular way June 27," and added: "As far as I am concerned that is as far as it goes."

He said it was a most unusual procedure for a jury foreman to write him.

The letter expressed "resentment of the implications cast by His Lordship. It said: "It is our opinion that a jury should be allowed to give its verdict without fear of reprimand, as such practice is contrary to the principles of British justice."

"We are further concerned that demonstrations of this nature may influence members of future jury panels and for the above reasons we feel that an apology is in order."

Lucky Families Safe In Jet Crash Despite All Odds

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Almost any other Tuesday at 5 p.m., the Charles Schneider and Raymond Meyer families would have been at home.

... SERVANTS

they were demanding during negotiations this spring.

Otherwise, they would have presented their case before Chief Justice Sloan and hoped for a favorable recommendation. (Both sides had agreed to accept the chief justice's findings.)

INDEPENDENT BOARD
Most likely hinge to the settlement is the creation of an independent board to which the civil servants would have recourse if they could not gain satisfaction in direct negotiations with the Civil Service Commission or the cabinet.

Findings of this board would not be binding, however.

The government has maintained that it could never agree to binding arbitration because it would violate the principle of parliamentary supremacy.

For their part, the civil servants would retain the right to strike if the finding of the board was not acceptable.

In actual practice, however, the board's recommendations would undoubtedly be accepted by both sides as they are under a similar arrangement in Great Britain.

2 Top Reds End at Bottom Of TUC Poll

BLACKPOOL, England (Reuters)—Two leading Communists were beaten today for election to the 35-man general council of the Trades Union Congress, governing body for Britain's 8,300,000 organized workers.

Arthur Horner, Communist secretary of the National Union of Mine Workers, was at the bottom of the poll in the mining and quarrying group with 2,187,000 card votes.

The second Communist who sought election, Frank Haxell, general secretary of the Electrical Trades Union, also ended at the bottom in the engineering and vehicle building group with 591,000 votes.

Twenty members of the existing council were returned unopposed.

But fate stepped in ahead of a navy jet fighter which smashed into their houses in suburban Berkeley Tuesday, leaving little but charred ruins.

The pilot, Lieut. John R. Renshaw, appeared to be shooting for an open space a block west of the Meyer home when his burning plane hit what may have been the only two unoccupied homes in the area. Renshaw was killed.

Schneider, operator of a home improvement firm, said his wife, Ruth, would be busy getting supper almost any other Tuesday. Their children, Linda, 8; Charles, 5, and baby Richard, 3½ months, would be at home.

But it was the first day of school and his wife had picked out the children's best clothes and gone to her mother's.

They were at the home of Mrs. Schneider's mother when the plane ripped through the Meyer home and into the Schneiders' six-room frame house. It left only a few upright timbers and four drawers of untouched clothing in a scorched-dresser.

Schneider still was at his office. Almost any other Tuesday Raymond Meyer would be in the shower after a day on his construction job.

But Tuesday Meyer worked overtime, and also stopped to pick up his wife at her job.

They were just two blocks away when the plane hit.

Goode Will Seek Mainland Nomination

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tom Goode, former MP for Burnaby-Richmond, said Tuesday night he will be a candidate for the Liberal nomination in that riding in the next federal election.

He made the statement while speaking in suburban Burnaby in support of British Columbia Liberal leader Arthur Laing, a candidate in the Burnaby provincial by-election.

Mr. Goode lost his seat June 10 to Social Credit candidate Thomas Irwin, former speaker of the legislature.

Ike Initials Foreign Aid; On Vacation

Eisenhower made no mention of his previous threat to call Congress back into session if the funds prove inadequate when he signed the $2,768,760,000 money bill Tuesday. He said only that he would do the best with funds provided.

"I will keep a close and continuous watch to see the effects of this program during the course of the year," he said. "The administration will, of course, endeavor to administer the program as effectively as possible with the funds which have been made available."

Dope Syndicate Smashed in U.S. Canada Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States justice department today announced the indictment in New York of 46 persons charged with conspiring to import narcotics from France and distribute the drugs in American and Canadian cities.

The defendants include Harry Stromberg, alias Nig Rosen.

PAID IN BAR
In furtherance of the conspiracy, the indictment said, Stromberg is alleged to have paid $40,000 to Nathan Behrman in a New York City bar March 26, 1954. Subsequently, it was charged, Stromberg received sums totalling $75,000 from Anthony Vellucci, named as co-conspirator.

Behrman, named as a defendant, is in the state prison in Attica, N.Y., where he is serving a 20-year sentence for illegal possession of narcotics in 1955. First indication of the size of the roundup came with a roundup of scores of persons in the New York metropolitan area.

Stromberg was the ring's "overall director" for more than 25 years, a government spokesman said.

WORTH MILLIONS
The dope syndicate imported heroin, cocaine and opium from France and other countries, and on at least one occasion it smuggled in about 50 pounds of pure heroin valued on the illicit market at $3,500,000, said U.S. Attorney Paul W. Williams.

HISTORIC COTTAGES

RUSS WARSHIPS SAIL CHANNEL TO YUGOSLAVIA

DOVER, England (AP)—Two Russian ships—presumably a Yugoslavia-bound cruiser and destroyer—steamed westward through the English Channel today.

Admiralty lookouts reported the movement of the vessels, saying they were about four miles off Dover. The cruiser was flying a white flag with a red star.

The Russians announced this week that the cruiser Zhdanov and a minelaying destroyer were en route to Yugoslavia on a goodwill visit.

Dispatches published in Moscow from correspondents aboard the Zhdanov said an American-made Sabre jet without insignia flew "impolitely" over the cruiser while it was passing into the North Sea and a Danish cutter narrowly avoided hitting the ship while a person aboard the cutter took moving pictures.

False Teeth Need A Special Cleanser

Don't Brush Your Plates! Soak Them in Polident—As Dentists Suggest

Polident is the recommended way to clean dentures; banish Denture Breath. Just follow these easy rules.

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath".

3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident cleanser is recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates. Polident gets where a brush can't reach.

Search Party Combing Muskeg For Vanished U.S. Truck Driver

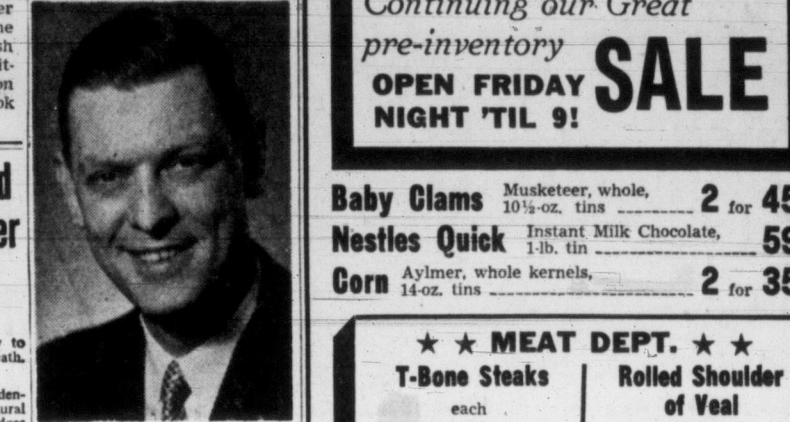

MOBERLEY LAKE, B.C. (CP)—A land party slogged through deep muskeg today in search of an American truck driver who disappeared near here two weeks ago carrying a considerable sum of money.

Robert Horsely, 45, of Fall City, Wash., has not been seen since the day he entered the remote area to place a claim on some land.

A helicopter was to join the search today. A land party with pack horses, led by two RCMP officers has been searching the area, 140 miles north-east of Prince George. An earlier search by air disclosed no trace of Horsely.

Douglas McLennan, land agent at Pouce Coupe, B.C., said company in Seattle, came limp.

B.C. Factory Hit by Blast; One injured

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three explosions and a fire extensively damaged a chemical plant of the Electric Reduction Company of Canada in North Vancouver today.

Workman Vince Jennings, 23, was taken to hospital suffering burns and shock. He was reported in good condition. Three other men escaped unhurt.

The explosions stripped the two-storey, steel-framed building of its inch-thick asbestos-board sides.

The $5,000,000 plant, opened last April, makes sodium chlorate, a chemical used for bleaching woodpulp.

A company officer said sodium chlorate normally isn't explosive and he had never heard of an explosion in similar plants.

Fire Chief Al Keller said the crews of two engines were able to extinguish the flames.

50 Ships, 50 Planes Take Part In Giant Halifax Navy Review

HALIFAX (BUP)—Halifax harbor was the scene today of one of the most spectacular reviews ever held by the Royal Canadian Navy.

Some 25 ships of the navy's Atlantic fleet, 25 auxiliary boats, and 50 navy and air force planes took part in an impressive salute to Rear Admiral R. E. S. Bidwell, retiring flag officer Atlantic coast.

Bidwell, who retires Sept. 20, took the salute from the flight deck of the navy's newest aircraft carrier HMCS Bonaventure.

The escort destroyer St. Laurent which led the line of ships fired a 13-gun salute to the admiral's flag on behalf of the fleet.

Neptune aircraft from the Royal Canadian air force's 405 squadron at Greenwood, N.S., and Lancasters from the operational training unit at Summerside, P.E.I., joined in a fly-past with navy Banshees, jets, Avenger trackers, Expeditors and helicopters from the naval air station near here.

The 50 ships met in the Bedford basin at the head of Halifax harbor and proceeded southward through the narrows.

Bidwell, from Halifax, has been flag officer Atlantic coast since November, 1951. He will be succeeded by Rear Admiral H. F. Pullen of Rothesay, New Brunswick, who was formerly flag officer Pacific coast.

Eight of the destroyers and two submarines which took part in the ceremony steamed out of the harbor as they passed the Bonaventure, and headed for the mid-North Atlantic.

The RCN destroyers and two Royal Navy submarines will participate in exercise "Seaspray," a series of big NATO naval manoeuvres.

Skyscraper to Make New Yorkers See Red

NEW YORK (AP)—Every man has had, at one time or another, a weekend ambition "to paint the town red."

Nobody but Louis J. Glickman, however, has seriously set out to erect a vermillion-colored skyscraper in the heart of Manhattan.

His proposal to tear down historic Carnegie Hall which he bought for $5,000,000 and replace it with a bright-red, 44-storey, $24,000,000 office building has caught the public fancy.

People want to know who Glickman is, and why he wants to put up a tower that will look like an oversized bloody Mary.

RELIEVES DRABNESS

"Oh, I just happened to be wearing a red tie the day I closed the deal," Glickman jokes casually when asked this question. Then, getting serious, he explains:

"Color is getting to play such an important part in our lives, in everything from refrigerators to automobiles, that I thought a vermillion building would relieve some of the drabness of Manhattan—and give the town a shot in the arm."

The venture is typical of Glickman, whose formula for success is "imagination mixed with prudent daring."

Glickman, one of the leading real estate syndicate operators, wasn't born with a silver spoon in his mouth—it was a property deed. Shortly after graduating from college he became a partner of his father, Pincus Glickman, a builder.

REAL ESTATE EMPIRE

Since the end of the war Glickman, rivalled perhaps only by William Zeckendorf in the size of his real estate operations, has closed deals totalling more than $600,000,000. His firm owns properties valued at

LABOR DRAFTS WCB PROTEST

VANCOUVER (CP)—A protest brief on workmen's compensation will be presented to cabinet by the Vancouver Labor council Sept. 17.

The council decided on the move Tuesday night against what it called a "too legalistic approach" by the provincial Workmen's Compensation Board.

Council members said hundreds of people who should get compensation have been unable to do so.

Representatives of the B.C. Federation of Labor and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will join the council in its protest.

Art Showing By Canadian Lauded in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—An exhibition of 17 oil paintings and 26 water colors by Stephen Andrews of Saskatoon and Winnipeg opened today at the Hanover Gallery.

It is the first London show for the 35-year-old Canadian painter, who studied in Winnipeg under the late Lionel LeMoine FitzGerald. FitzGerald was a member of the Canadian "Group of Seven."

The exhibition includes "standing figure," which has already been purchased for the National Gallery of Canada. The publication, Art News and Review, says of this painting: "Light travels through the golden figure as carefree as the young Andrews chasing light beams across the open prairies."

Andrews has a highly individual style. Some feel his work shows the influence of the Tachist school, in which a translucent effect is conveyed.

"To be successful in real estate you have to be like a bull," said Glickman, who is as self-confident as an elephant in a flea circus.

"But having done that as individual lawyers, there are other tasks that must be done by the corporate bar," he said.

"First in importance . . . is the scrutiny of those who seek to enter the profession."

He said lawyers should take a more active interest in the work of law schools to ensure

Honest Work Best Advertising Bar Parley Told

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Honest, competent work by the individual lawyer is the most effective means of establishing good public relations for the legal profession, the president of the Canadian Bar Association said today.

E. C. Leslie of Regina said, however, there are other tasks that must be done by the corporate bar if the public relations are to remain on a firm basis.

Among these were a careful screening of those admitted to the profession; a greater interest in legal education; and a constant vigilance to see that laws are kept up to date.

Mr. Leslie made the remarks in his presidential address.

NOT UNPOPULAR

Mr. Leslie said he does not believe lawyers or the legal profession are unpopular with the public.

"If it indeed were true that lawyers are regarded with suspicion and distrust, it would be a far greater tragedy for the lay public than it would be for the lawyers," he said.

"Any tendency to disparage lawyers tends also to bring the law itself into disrepute and that would be tragedy indeed."

He said the lawyer's first duty is to attend to the interests of his client with competence, honesty and at reasonable cost. If any appreciable number failed in this duty, no amount of advertising or propaganda could stem the tide of public disapproval.

He said lawyers should take a more active interest in the work of law schools to ensure

$10 Million Loan Okayed for PGE

The provincial cabinet today authorized the PGE to borrow another $10,000,000 for new construction work.

The amount will raise the total borrowings of the railroad to $73,000,000. Amount authorized by the legislature is $80,000,000.

Meanwhile, in the words of Premier W. A. C. Bennett, a blue-chip New York financial house is "staking its reputation" on the PGE.

At his press conference Tuesday, the premier read proudly from a prospectus prepared by Morgan Stanley and Co., investment dealers.

HIGH GRADE

The prospectus describes the debentures, guaranteed by the government, as "high grade obligations which are suitable for inclusion in conservative investment accounts."

It goes on to detail some facts about the railroad and its financial position.

"The program of extensions those seeking admission to the profession would enter it with a broad general knowledge of the objects the law seeks to serve."

"The corporate bar must continue to take the lead in law reform . . . the social and economic changes in society require changes in the law to meet new conditions."

"It is our duty to be constantly vigilant to see that obsolete and outmoded laws are repealed or amended . . ."

GOOD TRAVELLER

and improvements undertaken by the province is transforming the Pacific Great Eastern into a modern, efficient railway," it states.

self-liquidating agencies like have been growing rapidly and are expected to show substantial further increases in the next few years."

All this about an antiquated old railway once the butt of countless jokes and nicknames like the "Please Go Easy" line!

SURVEY BY EXPERTS

The report was compiled by Morgan Stanley after a team of its experts had examined government and railway records.

Later this month a group of financial bigwigs from New York and Chicago will travel on the PGE for a first-hand look-see at its operations.

Premier Bennett said it was fortunate for the province that firms like Morgan Stanley didn't listen to the newspapers and political critics who say the Social Credit government is piling up the province's debt.

"If these people (the critics) knew the damage they could have done, they never would have perpetrated this sabotage," Mr. Bennett said.

Borrowings were needed for self-liquidating agencies like the PGE and Power Commission to maintain B.C.'s expansion, he said.

If the money was not available the province's economy "could have collapsed."

Thin Trading Seen On Toronto Exchange

The Toronto stock market was mixed to narrowly lower today during thin trading.

Western oils remained weak with Calgary and Edmonton easing 1/2 at 31 among the higher-priced issues. Fargo Oils climbed 55 cents to $7.90.

Prices at New York were pared a bit today as trading fell away to about the lowest level of the year. Oils retreated from their gains of Tuesday. Shamrock Oil, despite a 3 for 2 stock split proposal, showed slight change. Royal Dutch, Shell Transport and Trading, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Gulf Oil were lower.

AT NEW YORK McIntyre Petroleum led Canadian gainers with a rise of 1 point. Walker-Gooderham added 1/2. Losers included International Nickel, 1 1/2; Aluminum Ltd., 1/2; and Canadian Pacific, 1/2.

AT MONTREAL the stock market lost some early gains and stood at a narrowly mixed level in moderate trading today.

AT LONDON the stock market was firmer today but seasonal holiday influences continued to restrict business.

Glit-edged securities opened lower and attracted small buyers so that small gains predominated later.

Oils were higher in sympathy with the good quarterly report of the Royal Dutch Shell group. Among foreigners, there was a modest demand for German bonds. Dollar stocks were higher.

AT VANCOUVER a dull market saw prices unchanged. Traction moved 5/100 at $7.15. Vantor moved 3/100 at $17.15. Canam moved 2/100 at $15.15.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Some activity in oats and flax marked moderately active trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Buying of oats was attributed to American interests and domestic shippers. Offerings were in line with demand and prices moved in a narrow range.

Barley trading was mainly domestic and prices fluctuated narrowly.

Flax trading produced orders from American and international interests. Offerings and hedges were light and prices were firm to higher with some irregularities.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

'WHAT I SAID WAS ...'

Premier Bennett explained Tuesday he had never predicted that Social Credit would sweep all 22 B.C. seats in the federal election last June.

(The Soereds got six). "What I said," Mr. Bennett told reporters, "was that if the people understood the issues and what Social Credit is all about, then we would take all the seats."

The premier made the explanation in declining to predict the outcome of the three provincial by-elections next Monday.

Police Break Up Demonstrations By Bands of Mainland Youths

From CP Dispatches

VANCOUVER—Lower Mainland police were called on Tuesday to break up two demonstrations of youngsters.

In North Vancouver RCMP called in parents to help break up a gang of youths causing trouble. Some 20 youths were rounded up by police in three squad cars after complaints were received they were fighting and bothering a woman clerk in a grocery store.

The boys, ranging in age from 16 to 18, were herded together on the street, while police awaited arrival of their parents.

A garage attendant said some of the boys were armed with sections of car chains.

A misunderstanding between a disc jockey and teenagers sponsoring a rock 'n' roll dance caused a near riot.

The youngsters had arranged a charity dance and asked Bob (Red) Robinson to act as master of ceremonies. When he didn't show up 1,000 girls and boys gathered for the outdoor affair started a noisy protest.

Police broke up the demonstration and gave tickets to a number of youths for traffic offences.

FISHBOAT SKIPPER DIES

PRINCE RUPERT—The body of an American fishing vessel captain was brought into Prince Rupert, Monday.

The hearing starts September aboard his ship, the Virginia, Staff Sgt. J. W. Todd, of the RCMP detachment here, said Tuesday.

The captain, Leo Murray, is reported to have died two to three hours before the boat's arrival here.

ALARMS COMMUNITY

PENTICTON—Hundreds of residents here leaped up from the supper table when the Inland Natural Gas pipeline exploded on Campbell Mountain.

Dutton & Williams, installation firm for Inland Natural Gas Company, informed residents that the explosion was caused by compressed air pumped into the system for test purposes and that there was no danger.

DRIVER REMANDED

NELSON—Richard Gregory, of Ymir, was remanded Tuesday to September 11 when he appeared on a charge of manslaughter arising out of the traffic death of William Francis Clark, of Salmo, August 24.

Clark was struck by a vehicle as he was crossing the highway near Ymir.

CHAIRMAN NAMED

KITIMAT—Vancouver lawyer Reg Moir has been named chairman of a conciliation board to hear a wage dispute between United Steelworkers and the Aluminum Company of Canada here.

The hearing starts September

after the jury had taken such action.

After the jury handed down its verdict at the trial, Mr. Justice Manson said: "If this man is not guilty, I don't know what guilty is."

Mr. Justice Manson told the court it was only the third time in 21 years on the bench he had disagreed with a jury.

The demand for an apology was made in a letter to Chief Justice Sherwood Lett of the British Columbia Supreme Court. He said it was dated June 24 and carried the type-written signature of Harry Gehring, foreman of the jury.

Chief Justice Lett said Tuesday the letter was "acknowledged in the regular way June 27," and added: "As far as I am concerned that is as far as it goes."

He said it was a most unusual procedure for a jury foreman to write him.

The letter expressed "resentment of the implications cast by His Lordship. It said: 'It is our opinion that a jury should be allowed to give its verdict without fear of reprimand, as such practice is contrary to the principles of British justice.'"

"We are further concerned that demonstrations of this nature may influence members of future jury panels and for the above reasons we feel that an apology is in order."

Jury Head's Apology Demand Turned Down

VANCOUVER (CP)—The foreman of a jury that was dismissed by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson last spring has demanded an apology, but Chief Justice Sherwood Lett has indicated that he won't get one.

Mr. Justice Manson dismissed the jurors from further duty June 17 when he disagreed with their not guilty verdict in an assault case.

It was the first time in the memory of court officials that after the jury had taken such action.

HE CHOSE 44 DAYS

Pleading guilty to charges of impaired driving and driving without a licence, Nelson Joseph Wilson, of Duncan, chose 44 days in jail rather than pay a total fine of $185 at Sidney RCMP court last week.

Wilson was involved in an accident on West Saanich Road Aug. 3 when his car rolled over several times.

Oak Bay Votes Money for Art Gallery

Oak Bay council has voted an additional $8,500 as a centennial birthday gift from Greater Victoria municipalities to the Victoria Art Gallery.

Earlier the centennial planners voted $60,000 to Beaver Lake development, $70,000 to the art gallery and $10,000 to Esquimalt's Gorge Park, and $8,500 to Oak Bay projects.

The action clears the way for the committee to apply to the provincial government for the centennial grant.

Loot Totals $700 in Oak Bay Thefts

An estimated $650 to $700 in goods and cash was stolen in overnight break-ins at three Oak Bay stores.

Premises entered were Johnson's Pharmacy, 2043 Cadboro Bay, where thieves took $150 cash and $219 worth of electric razors; Porter's Food Market, 2077 Cadboro Bay, where about $30 worth of cigarettes were taken, and Totem Pharmacy, 2577 Cadboro Bay, which lost between $250 and $300 cash.

Front door was jimmied at the food store and a transom removed at Johnson's. In all cases, exit was by the rear.

Surprise Witness in Film Land Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lawyers in the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial went to a suburban home today to take testimony from a seriously ill woman described as a surprise witness for the defense.

Defence lawyer Arthur J. Crowley said she has new information about the alleged coupling of actress Maureen O'Hara and a Latin lover in Grauman's Chinese Theatre in Hollywood.

Sewage Fumes Kill One, Fell 12

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UP)—Deadly "black damp" gas killed a city official today during a trial run of a new municipal sewage unit.

Twelve other persons were hospitalized, including policemen and firemen felled by the fumes while rescuing other victims. Three were in critical condition.

Boy Drowned in Indoor Swim Pool

COQUITLAM, B.C. (CP)—A 10-year-old boy who was thought to be holding his breath under water was drowned at an indoor swimming pool here.

Doctors and an inhalator crew unsuccessfully applied artificial respiration on the boy, Sheldon Smith, for two hours after he was pulled from the water by a swimming instructor.

New Sommers-Sturdy Hearing Sept. 23

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pre-trial examination of Robert E. Sommers, former minister of lands and forests, in his slander suit against Vancouver lawyer David A. Sturdy has been set for Sept. 23.

Mr. Sturdy states that he will apply for a trial date as early as possible after completion of his examination of Mr. Sommers.

The case had been set for trial June 3 but was adjourned when Mr. Sommers appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada from an order giving Mr. Sturdy permission to examine his bank records as well as those of several firms named by Mr. Sturdy in the alleged slander statement before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan at his forestry inquiry. The order was upheld in Ottawa.

Cubans Terrorized
By Wave of Bombings

HAVANA (AP)—A fresh wave of bombings swept Havana and the westernmost Pinar del Rio province early today as President Fulgencio Batista celebrated the 24th anniversary of his first seizure by force of Cuba's government.

Bombs exploded in two of Havana's leading movie houses, killing one 19-year-old girl student.

dent and wounding four other persons. A bomb found in a third movie house failed to explode.

Later three bombs went off in Neptune Street in the heart of Havana, heavily damaging business establishments. Another unexploded bomb was found near Havana's leading radio and television station.

Two newspaper offices were partially wrecked in four bomb explosions in Pinar del Rio province.

City Milkmen Reach Basis
Of Settlement

Basis for settlement of the eight-month dispute between 165 milkmen and four Victoria dairies was found today at a meeting of both sides.

A union spokesman, after the meeting, said the union policy committee tonight would be appraised of developments and a draft copy of an agreement probably will be submitted to the dairies next week.

A dairy official said "we meet again next week. A settlement is anticipated."

Neither side would elaborate. George Shaw and Sam Brown, representing milkmen in Local 464, Milk Salesmen and Dairy Employees' Union, met with the dairy managers to discuss four points raised by the union.

Last week agreement was reached on a five-day delivery schedule, skipping Wednesday and Sunday, sought by management and monthly wage increases of $30 for drivers and $32.50 for plant employees, sought by the union.

The union wants the 50-hour work week for drivers cut to 45 hours. It also wants an upward revision of commission rates. Both have been opposed by management.

"This is the first time that hours of work have entered the picture and it may take some thrashing out," Mr. Brown said earlier.

SENIORITY

Third goal sought by the union is an iron-clad guarantee that seniority will be the basis for any lay-offs, because the reduced delivery schedule will eliminate about 12 jobs held by relief drivers.

No immediate lay-offs are anticipated as the normal staff turnover is expected to make necessary adjustments in about two or three months.

"But we want to make sure that seniority rules, just in case," Mr. Shaw said.

Final union point was expected to receive ready agreement—the wage increases to be retroactive to Jan. 1.

The new contract would run to March 31, 1958.

THREATENED
SAYS ENVOY

WASHINGTON (UP)—Middle East trouble shooter Loy W. Henderson said today the Syrian situation is "extremely serious" and may affect "the security of the whole free world."

Henderson made the statement on returning from a 14-day trip to the Middle East to get first-hand facts on the crisis there caused by Syria's pro-Soviet shift. He went immediately to report to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

"The seriousness pertains not only to the Middle East, but the Syrian situation might have serious effects on the security of the whole free world," Henderson said.

Living Costs
Register
All-Time High

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs rose for the fifth consecutive month in July, boosting the consumer price index by another seven-tenths of a point to a record 122.6, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Higher food prices provided the main propellant in July as the index scored one of its most prolonged advances in recent years.

Prices rose in July for eggs, pork, butter, grapefruit, beef, as well as rent, home-ownership costs, coal, gasoline, street-car and bus fares, taxi fares, newspapers, drugs, hospital room rates and personal care items.

These were partially offset by lower prices for all fresh vegetables, apples and coffee as well as both men's and women's wear and fuel oil.

The consumer price index, at 122.6, compares with 121.9 last month and 119.1 a year ago.

Here are the various components of the consumer price index for July with June stand-

BIG THREE GET NOTES

Russ Have New Mid-East Plan

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet government handed a new Middle East declaration dealing particularly with Syria to ambassadors of the Western Big Three Tuesday night, official sources revealed today.

Foreign minister Andrei Gromyko personally gave the notes to the U.S., British and French ambassadors in Moscow.

The precise contents of the notes were not revealed. But it was expected the Soviet news agency Tass would broadcast the texts Thursday.

Authoritative sources in London said earlier that in the new notes Russia had proposed to Britain and the other two western powers that the four nations seek to settle the Middle East crisis together.

Russia's line of argument earlier this year was that the big powers should formally renounce use of force in the Middle East.

It also suggested some form of big power declaration on the area.

The United States, Britain and France rejected the original Soviet suggestion on the grounds that the United Nations charter already called for renunciation of force in all disputes.

Police did not release his name, and no charges have been laid.

An inquest was scheduled by Parkville-Quilicum RCMP for today at 3 p.m. with Coroner T. Hadfield of Quilicum presiding.

Soviet Jet Airliner Winging Way
To Canada En Route to U.S. Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Russian jet liner carrying Soviet diplomats to the United Nations landed at Goose Bay, Labrador, at 2:59 p.m. PDT today, the air force reported. It will stay there overnight.

From Times News Services
REYKJAVIK, Iceland—Wing- ing its way towards Canada, en route to the U.S., a Soviet TU-104 jetliner stopped here for refuelling. The flight represents the first trans-Atlantic venture of a Russian plane to the U.S. in 20 years.

Two RCAF navigators are helping to fly the airliner from Iceland to Labrador.

They are Flt. Lt. W. D. Stewart of Almonte, Ont., and Flt. Lt. Robert M. Edwards of Lucky Lake, Sask., reported to have boarded the twin-jet plane at Reykjavik this morning.

The Russian jet, on its way to McGuire Air Force Base at New Jersey, is to land at Goose Bay, Labrador, this afternoon for refuelling, with Gander, Newfoundland, as an alternative pending on weather.

The twin-engine, silver-painted plane, carrying Soviet delegates to the General Assembly and personnel for the Soviet Embassy in Washington, set down at the nearby U.S. air force base at Keflavik at 6:37 a.m. PDT.

It remained on the ground for about 90 minutes before moving off on its next leg, the 4½-hour hop to Goose Bay, Labrador.

New Offer or End
Talks Say Reds

LONDON (UP)—Russia flatly rejected the Western disarmament package today and demanded the West present a "more realistic" offer or end the London arms conference.

The Soviet rejection was delivered to the five-power arms parity by Russian chief delegate Valerian Zorin. A Soviet embassy spokesman informed newsmen afterwards that the talks should be transferred to a "larger forum" if the West refuses to accept the Russian proposals here.

The spokesman said the western package is "completely unacceptable." The main reason for this, he said, is the western demand that suspension of nuclear tests be linked to a halt in A-bomb production.

Newsmen pressed the embassy spokesman to say whether Zorin had now given the Soviet's final word. The official replied, "Mr. Zorin has stated the position of the Soviet government."

He added that Russia's quick rejection of the offer last week when it was presented was no accident since the individual points had been introduced to the parity in piecemeal fashion beforehand.

Observers have predicted more strongly in recent days that the Russians would attempt to switch the arms talks to the larger forum of the general assembly where they would have a bigger stage for their propaganda efforts.

The London talks thus appeared to be headed for an end in the near future. But there was no indication of when they would end, and no one wanted to speculate.

The delegates, however, agreed to meet again Thursday, with Zorin in the chair.

TROOPS' CLASH LOOMS
Tension Mounts
In School Strife

(From Times News Services)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Grim-faced, armed national guardsmen today forcibly prevented racial integration of Little Rock Central High School.

A lone Negro teenager girl attempted repeatedly to cross a line of 200 troops but was turned back by the soldiers ordered out by Governor Orval Faubus.

The troops, many with clips of cartridges in their hands, stood about waiting for the marshals.

The Negro girl was unaccompanied when she approached the long line of guardsmen, armed with rifles and carbines.

A crowd of some 150 shouting whites engulfed the girl as she tried to pass the guardsmen. The whites, shouting such phrases as "nigger go back where you belong," made no attempt to harm her.

White Students Attack Girl

The Negro girl refused to answer questions of reporters.

A federal judge has ordered school officials to proceed with integration.

Another Negro girl, 15-year-old Dorothy Geraldine, was the target of an attack in Charlotte, North Carolina, when a band of white students and spectators wielded rocks and sticks as she left high school after registering as the first Negro student there.

She escaped serious injury. One white youth in a crowd shouting "Nigger, go home" was arrested by police.

Meantime in Little Rock, Governor Faubus who called "out" the militia Tuesday night described the situation as a "legal checker game" but gave no indication whether he will back down on his stand to keep the high school segregated.

Federal Judge Ronald Davies Tuesday night said he was taking at face value Faubus' statement that the 250 guardsmen were called out to keep peace and order, and not to enforce segregation. After a five-minute hearing he ordered the board to proceed with his integration order.

President Eisenhower said in Washington Tuesday that Attorney-General Herbert Brownell is looking into the situation.

In North Carolina, the focal point shifted today from Greensboro to Charlotte. One Negro pupil planned to enroll in each of four white schools at Charlotte today.

No Statement On Retirement —St. Laurent

By VICTOR J. MACKIE

OTTAWA—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent's declaration from his summer home in St. Patrick, Quebec, that he has made no statement to officials of his party that he wants to retire, came as no surprise in political circles here.

Mr. St. Laurent as leader of the Liberal party has made it clear that he intends to lead the Opposition in the coming session of parliament which opens Oct. 14.

If it becomes apparent that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is planning an early election in December or January, then certainly the Liberal party will make no move to change its leader. It will have no time to make a change and Mr. St. Laurent as the present leader would carry the responsibility of conducting another general election.

2 Top Reds End at Bottom Of TUC Poll

BLACKPOOL, England (Reuters)—Two leading Communists were beaten today for election to the 35-man general council of the Trades Union Congress, governing body for Britain's 8,300,000 organized workers.

Arthur Horner, Communist secretary of the National Union of Mine Workers, was at the bottom of the poll in the mining and quarrying group with 2,187,000 card votes.

The second Communist who sought election, Frank Haxell, general secretary of the Electrical Trades Union, also ended at the bottom in the engineering and vehicle building group with 581,000 votes.

Twenty members of the existing council were returned unopposed.

SURVEYORS' MEASURE

In land surveys, 80 chains equal 320 rods, or one statute mile of 5,280 feet.

But fate stepped in ahead of a navy jet fighter which smashed into their houses in suburban Berkeley Tuesday, leaving little but charred ruins.

The pilot, Lieut. John R. Renshaw, appeared to be shooting for an open space a block west of the Meyer home when his burning plane hit what may have been the only two unoccupied homes in the area. Renshaw was killed.

Schneider, operator of a home improvement firm, said his wife, Ruth, would be busy getting supper almost any other Tuesday. Their children, Linda, 8; Charles, 5, and baby Richard, 3½ months, would be at home.

But it was the first day of school and his wife had picked out the children's best clothes and gone to her mother's.

They were at the home of Mrs. Schneider's mother when the plane ripped through the Meyer home and into the Schneiders' six-room frame house. It left only a few upright timbers and four drawers of untouched clothing in a scorched dresser. Schneider still was at his office.

Almost any other Tuesday Raymond Meyer would be in the shower after a day on his construction job.

But Tuesday Meyer worked overtime, and also stopped to pick up his wife at her job.

They were just two blocks away when the plane hit.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tom Goode, former MP for Burnaby-Richmond, said Tuesday night he will be a candidate for the Liberal nomination in that riding in the next federal election.

He made the statement while speaking in suburban Burnaby in support of British Columbia Liberal leader Arthur Laing, a candidate in the Burnaby provincial by-election.

Mr. Goode lost his seat June 10 to Social Credit candidate Thomas Irwin, former speaker of the legislature.

Ike Initials Foreign Aid; On Vacation

Eisenhower made no mention of his previous threat to call Congress back into session if the funds prove inadequate when he signed the $2,768,760,000 money bill Tuesday. He said only that he would do the best with funds provided.

"I will keep a close and continuous watch to see the effects which this serious cut has upon the program during the course of the year," he said. "The administration will, of course, endeavor to administer the program as effectively as possible with the funds which have been made available."

Dope Syndicate Smashed in U.S. Canada Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States justice department today announced the indictment in New York of 46 persons charged with conspiring to import narcotics from France and distribute the drugs in American and Canadian cities.

Areas involved in the operation include New York, Detroit, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Boston, the state of California and Canada, the department said.

The defendants include Harry Stromberg, alias Nig Rosen.

PAID IN BAR

In furtherance of the conspiracy, the indictment said, Stromberg is alleged to have paid $40,000 to Nathan Behrman in a New York City bar March 26, 1954. Subsequently, it was charged, Stromberg received sums totalling $75,000 from Anthony Vellucci, named as co-conspirator.

Behrman, named as a defendant, is in the state prison in Attica, N.Y., where he is serving a 20-year sentence for illegal possession of narcotics in 1955.

First indication of the size of the roundup came with a roundup of scores of persons in the New York metropolitan area.

Stromberg was the ring's "over-all director" for more than 25 years, a government spokesman said.

WORTH MILLIONS

The dope syndicate imported heroin, cocaine and opium from France and other countries, and on at least one occasion it smuggled in about 50 pounds of pure heroin valued on the illicit market at $3,500,000, said U.S. Attorney Paul W. Williams.

RUSS WARSHIPS SAIL CHANNEL TO YUGOSLAVIA

DOVER, England (AP)—Two Russian ships—presumably a Yugoslavia-bound cruiser and destroyer—steamed westward through the English Channel today.

Admiralty lookouts reported the movement of the vessels, saying they were about four miles off Dover. The cruiser was flying a white flag with a red star.

The Russians announced this week that the cruiser Zhdanov and a minelaying destroyer were en route to Yugoslavia on a goodwill visit.

Dispatches published in Moscow from correspondents aboard the Zhdanov said an American-made Sabre jet without insignia flew "impolitely" over the cruiser while it was passing into the North Sea and a Danish cutter narrowly avoided hitting the ship while a person aboard the cutter took moving pictures.
